SIFT GANGS IN NEW SLAYING

FIRST TEST FOR NAVAL SLASHERS DUE TOMORROW

Adams to Act as U. S. Spokesman.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 2.—The international poker game being played at the London naval conference is beginning to warm up. Cards have been dealt and there now has arrived that fateful, hushful moment before the draw, which will take place at the session of the committee of the whole at St. James's palace Tuesday.

The players have passed the week-end in scrutinizing each other's poker faces and sizing up each other's hands. Out of the corners of their eyes the Europeans are narrowly watching Uncle Sam, who, tight lipped and silent, is sitting in the game at this stage in the person of Charles Francis Adams, secretary of the navy, whose illustrious forbears are famed as Americans whom John Bull could not bluff.

"Put It in Black and White."

When France opened the pot Friday with a proposal for navy limitation on modified global tonnage lines, which was described orally and in generalities, and Great Britain came in with suspicious alacrity, Mr. Adams chipped in guardedly with the remark that he would like to see the proposition on paper before going farther.

It is reported Mr. Adams, who, with chin whiskers and a little more hair, would make a first class Uncle Sam, had a steely glint in his eye, which said "Stop!" The incident reminded one of the remark of a wag to Mr. Adams on the day the conference opened.

"Mr. Secretary," he said, "if you let the British put anything over on you it will be inscribed on your tombstone that you were the only Adams ever bluffed by John Bull."

Adams in Spotlight.

With the conference going into the third week and the five naval powers coming to diplomatic close quarters, if not grips, Mr. Adams holds the limelight as chief spokesman of the United States' delegation, instead of secretary of State Henry L. Stimson in the consideration of methods of naval limitation.

Thus begins the serious business of the conference. The observance of international amenities has been accomplished. Felicitations have been exchanged. Hands have been stretched across the seas in all directions. Mr. Stimson laid a wreath on the tomb of the unknown British soldier no less promptly than Prime Minister MacDonald, when in Washington, paid the same honor to the American unknown soldier, or the unknown creditor, as a cynical French diplomat put it at the time of the war debt settlement. International courtesies have been thus reciprocated without overdoing them.

What Mr. Stimson Forgot.

For example, beginning with the earl of Balfour, when he came to mobilize our resources in the world war, no British envoy arriving in the United States has failed to rush off the first thing to Mount Vernon and lay a wreath on the tomb of George Washington. But Mr. Stimson has been in England more than two weeks without apparently so much as a thought of journeying to Windsor castle to pay a similar honor to the memory of King George III., to whom we are popularly supposed to be indebted for our existence as an independent nation.

This, which might be called a flagrant neglect of "hands across the sea" amenities, has gone unnoticed by the British public. Even King George V. if he felt the slight to the memory of his great-great-great-grandfather, has not betrayed by the slightest word nor act. Of course, he would not.

These British are stoical people. Although they might appreciate a kind word for King George III., they have demonstrated that they have no hard feelings over that little unpleasantness of 1776. They have got Houdon's statue of George Washington in bronze in a noble setting right in the heart of London.

British Hardly Notice Parley.

So far as the British public is concerned, it has hardly noticed the conference at all. It does not seem particularly interested. The American papers are printing several times as much about the event as the London papers. Since the opening day, when London newspaper reports and editorials dwelt chiefly with the first participation of the king in a public event since his illness, the conference rarely has been given as much as a column. KIDNAP ESCORT OF T. J. CROWE'S YOUNG DAUGHTER

Richard Anderson, 3521 Reta avenue, 18 year old freshman at Northwestern university, was kidnaped by two robbers last night before the eyes of Miss Miriam Crowe, 16 years old, daughter of Timothy J. Crowe, former president of the sanitary district, as he was about to escort her to a party. The kidnaping took place in front of the Crowe home at 5946 Washington boulevard.

Anderson was a few feet in advance of Miss Crowe as they approached his automobile, in which they planned to drive to the party being given in the loop for Anderson's sister, Carmen, 16 years old. As the student opened the door of the car the two bandits, who had secreted themselves inside, reached out, dragged Anderson in, and speeded away.

Miss Crowe screamed as she saw her escort disappear and ran back to her home. But at the Austin station there was no record that she had notified the police.

The robbers drove Anderson to 34th street and Oak Park avenue, Berwyn. There they took his overcoat, $10, and the car, leaving him only a dime. With this he telephoned the Crowe home, and a rescue car was sent out from there to pick him up.

At the Crowe home Mrs. Crowe refused to discuss the kidnaping or to admit that it had taken place. Anderson's mother, Mrs. Andrew Anderson, however, revealed the details of the robbery. She said that her son and Miss Crowe went on to the party after he had resumed the rôle of escort.

EXPLODE BOMB IN ALLEY BEHIND HINSDALE MOVIE

While 400 persons, most of them children, were watching a moving picture in the Hinsdale theater, 209 1st street, Hinsdale, yesterday afternoon, a bomb, thrown from a passing automobile exploded in the alley at the rear of the building. The theater was undamaged, but the explosion broke windows in the home of E. F. Buchholz, a village trustee, at 1st street and Garfield avenue, causing damage of about $100.

The bombing was the first in Du Page county, and was the second attack on George W. Krueger, owner of the theater, within the last ten days. In the first attack Krueger was shot in the leg after several men had waylaid him and beaten him.

Krueger told Chief of Police George Bray that the moving picture operators' union had attempted to induce him to hire union operators, but had never threatened him because of his refusal to do so. Krueger has been operating the projecting machine while his wife has been taking tickets in an effort to cut down on expenses, Krueger said.

Sarajevo Hails the Youth Who Began the War

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SARAJEVO, Jugo-Slavia, Feb. 2.—The memory of a 19 year old student fanatic, whose well aimed shots at the heir to the throne of the Hapsburgs plunged the whole world into war, was inscribed in marble here today.

On the exact spot where Gavrilo Princep killed both Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife, the duchess of Hohenberg, a marble tablet was formally dedicated, while thousands of Serbian patriots who regard the dead assassin as a martyr, looked on in awed silence.

"On this historical spot Gavrilo Princep proclaimed liberty on Sunday, June 28, 1914," reads the memorial, engraved in gold on the top of a green marble plaque. And beside it was a bas relief of the frail looking student, who died two years later of tuberculosis in an Austrian prison, puzzling and wondering to the last how the whole world could get so wrought up over a "patriotic assassination."

Whole Town Turns Out.

Although the Jugo-Slav government announced that it had prohibited any official character in today's ceremonies, the whole town turned out. Peasants streamed in, lending color to the scene with their multi-hued costumes. Many of them no doubt came in the very same garb they wore on that fateful day in June, when they also trickled into town to take a look at their future emperor.

The cafés and restaurants were jammed, while the peasants gathered on street corners and did folk dances until the ceremony began.

Then the crowds moved towards the bridge leading to Konak castle. It was on the quay, at the end of the bridge, where Princep waited for the archduke and killed him after a bomb, thrown by one of his friends earlier in the line of the archduke's parade, failed to explode.

Speeches Short, to the Point.

There were no radios today to carry the voices of the speakers to the vast throng, but none was needed. The hard faces of the leaders of the "Narodna Odbrana," a blackhand nationalistic organization, which is credited with organizing Ferdinand's murder, were reflected by their powerful voices. Speeches were short but to the point.

"We come here to honor the memory of the greatest of us," shouted the chairman of the Sarajevo organization, for Princep was an ardent member of this body. "What words can we add to his great deed? None! His memory can most highly be honored by silence."

He then asked the people to stand at attention for two minutes. Another leader from Dalmatia then stepped up and broke the silence by laying a wreath on the tablet.

Then with the singing of the national anthem, the crowd broke up, scattering to the cafés and restaurants, where tonight they sat at crowded tables and told tales of the new national "martyr."

Life Is Spared.

Princep was first ordered executed. The old emperor of Austria-Hungary, Franz Joseph, commuted it to life imprisonment. He entered the prison of Theresienstadt. Suffering from wounds on the chest and arms, and wracked by tuberculosis, Princep died two years later. All the world was at war and scarcely a newspaper outside Austria even published the news.

2 CHUMS, A GIRL, DAD AND FLIVVER MAKE ONE DRAMA

Albert Finnerman, 21 years old, donned his Sunday clothes last evening after clerking all day in his father's delicatessen at 4002 Grenshaw street. He had promised to take his chum, Jack Vernofsky, 1228 South Turner avenue, and Jack's sweetheart, Sharon Daniels, for a ride.

Albert went looking for his flivver and found the garage empty. He telephoned Jack, who told him that Sharon also was missing. Jack borrowed a car and the chums went looking for other girls. They were passing 671 North La Salle street when Albert saw his own car parked away from the glare of the street light. Closer inspection revealed Sharon at the wheel and Albert's father, David Finnerman, sitting beside her.

"For shame, father," said Albert, smiting his 41 year old parent on the cheek. "For shame, Sharon," said Jack, bringing a blush to the girl's cheek with the palm of his hand.

A police squad arrived and all four went to the Chicago avenue station.

496 AMERICANS PAY U.S. TAX ON MILLION INCOME

1928 Market Profits Are Large.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Huge profits in the stock market are reflected in a preliminary report on statistics of income for 1928 made public today by the bureau of internal revenue of the treasury department. The figures which show a big increase in the number of large incomes, are based on returns filed during 1929.

Total net income of individuals during the calendar year 1928 exceeded by more than 2 billion dollars the totals for 1927. There were 496 persons with incomes of $1,000,000 or more as compared with 290 in 1927, 231 in 1926, 207 in 1925, and 75 in 1924.

Net income of individuals totaled 24 billion, 625 million dollars. This set a new record since the passage of the 1924 revenue act when increased exemptions cut the number of income tax returns almost in half and resulted in a sudden reduction of several billion dollars in the total net income reported. The total in 1927 was 22 billion, 545 million dollars. In 1924 a high mark of 25 billion, 700 million dollars was reached.

Large Incomes Increase.

There were many more large incomes in 1928 than during the years of war profits. The million dollar and over incomes totaled 206 in 1916 when American manufacturers were reaping profits on the sale of munitions and supplies before this country entered the world war. The number slumped to 141 in 1917, 67 in 1918, 65 in 1919, 33 in 1920, and reached a low water mark of 21 in 1921 when a business depression prevailed. In 1922 there were 67 incomes above $1,000,000 and in 1923 there were 74.

Today's preliminary report does not show in what states were the persons with the largest incomes. This information will become available when the complete report is issued.

Of the 496 incomes of $1,000,000 or more 24 were in the $5,000,000 class, 17 between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000, 20 between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000, 89 between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000, 105 between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000, and 280 between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000. These totals represented increases in all but one group, the 1927 report having shown 11 of $5,000,000 and over, 8 between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000, 22 between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000, 55 between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000, 56 between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000, and 138 between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000.

The 24 persons with incomes of $5,000,000 or more in 1928 reported total net income of 242 million dollars and paid a total tax of $35,684,823.

Returns of individuals reporting incomes for 1928 numbered 4,050,959 of which 2,434,640 were taxable and 1,616,319 were nontaxable. The tax liability was $1,142,259,780. The number of returns decreased by 71,283, or 1.73 per cent. The amount of tax showed an increase of $316,014,283 or 38 per cent. The average net income was $6,078,93[illegible] the average amount of tax liability $281.97, and the average tax rate 4.64 per cent. Prior to 1924 more than 7,000,000 persons filed income tax returns.

Salaries Big Item.

Of the net income, $10,263,317,251 or 36 per cent came from wages and salaries, $3,288,963,184 or 11 per cent from business, $1,940,274,581 or 7 per cent from partnerships, $2,943,173,181 or 10 per cent from profits from the sale of real estate, stocks, and bonds, and $1,843,339,590 or 6 per cent from capital net gains from the sale of assets held more than two years. The balance came from rents and royalties, interest on investment, government obligations, and stock of domestic corporations.

PATIENT BEING OPERATED UPON GIVES FIRE ALARM

New York, Feb. 2.—[Special.]—As surgeons were performing a delicate operation to save his leg, fractured in an automobile accident, Joseph Fishel, lying on an operating table in the United Israel-Zion hospital, Brooklyn, looked up through a window and saw flames reflected from the floor above. "Fire!" shouted the patient, who was fully conscious because only spinal anesthesia which deadens pain in the lower part of the body had been administered.

Dr. Jacob Sarnoff, who was operating on Fishel, calmed him and went on with his work after ordering assistants to spread the alarm.

Fourth Victim in Four Days Shot in Auto

The police early this morning were tracing faint clews which they believed might lead to the capture of the slayers of Joseph (Motor Joe) Cada, gangster.

Cada, who was 29 years old and was known in gangdom as a fop and an expert automobile driver and mechanic at one time affiliated with beer runners of the Druggan and Lake syndicate, was shot to death at 5:45 a. m. yesterday. He was slain by two men who were riding with him in his expensive automobile and who fired five bullets into their victim as the car approached the intersection of Broadway and Leland avenue. The slayers then turned the machine into the curb, stepped out, and walked leisurely away.

Trace Slain Man's Movements.

In tracing Cada's movements immediately preceding the murder the police learned that he had gone to a rendezvous with friends in the loop shortly after midnight yesterday morning. From there, it was reported, he drove to the Green Mill Gardens, a well known night club at Lawrence avenue and Broadway.

The police were told that Cada had been seen there by several persons, and they were investigating reports that he had left the Green Mill in company with two other men shortly before he was slain. It was believed by the police that his two companions were the slayers.

Three Others Meet Death.

As the investigation into Cada's assassination proceeded, the murder of Barney J. Mitchell, treasurer of the Checker Taxicab company, and Glenn Jackson, one of its drivers, and the street killing of Julius Rosenheim, informer de luxe, were already being shunted into the class of unsolved crimes.

Mitchell and Jackson were killed early Thursday morning a few minutes after the driver had taken Mitchell from the apartment of Robert McLaughlin, president of the Checker company, at 1621 Lunt avenue, where a champagne party had been in progress. Rosenheim was killed just after he had left his home at 3510 Dickens avenue at 8 a. m. Saturday.

Men whom Cada believed to be his friends must have shot him as he drove his car south in Broadway, or else, police said, it was enemies who forced him to go for a ride in his own car. Two bullets crashed through Cada's head from behind the right ear, one entered at the base of the skull, a fourth entered through his upper lip, and a fifth clipped off his left thumb.

Witness Riding Close Behind.

Driving a few feet behind Cada's car at the time was Eric Segermark of 2640 Canton street on a milk truck. Segermark had to step on his brakes to keep from ramming Cada's car as it suddenly slowed down and veered towards the east curb.

Segermark's roaring truck motor had drowned from him the reports of the guns inside Cada's car. He came to a stop, however, as the two men leisurely stepped out and walked to the corner of Leland avenue, casually crossing Broadway and continuing west in Leland.

As the truck came to a stop, Charles W. Clifford of 4725 Clifton avenue came running from a restaurant where he had been sipping coffee at a counter.

Found Slumped Over Wheel.

He and Segermark opened the door of Cada's car. They found him slumped down over the wheel. A cab driver who came along took Cada to the Lakeview hospital, where he was pronounced dead. Police found a short, flat .38 caliber automatic pistol in Cada's vest pocket. His brother, who later identified him at the county morgue, said:

"He got into bad company. He

WAGES CUT 15% BY SOUTH PARKS IN TAX CRISIS

1,300 Workers Take Pay Reduction.

More Difficulties

Developments of the day in the financial troubles of Chicago and Cook county included the following:

The south park system announces a cut of nearly 15 per cent in the pay of 1,300 employes because the reassessment will reduce the park revenue from taxes.

Several suburbs feel the pinch of delay in tax collections and hunt cash to keep their schools going.

Politicians stir up complaints against reassessment to gain favor with the electorate.

A horizontal pay cut of nearly 15 per cent will become effective today for 1,300 employés of the south park district. The workers, 320 of whom are policemen, will be paid on the basis of six days' work a week instead of seven. The announcement was made last night by Edward J. Kelly, president of the park board, and George T. Donoghue, superintendent.

This will be the first time that the south parks' employés have felt the effect of Chicago's shortage in revenue. The move was taken, after consultation with the employés, instead of a layoff of 200 employés which would have been necessary. Only ten workers were discharged as a result of the decision to adopt the six days a week pay system.

Donoghue Explains Slash.

"Our pay roll at this time of the year is approximately $220,000 a month," said Mr. Donoghue. "It was found necessary to effect a 17 per cent saving in this roll. The employés unanimously decided to take six days' pay a week. This was a saving of one-seventh or more than 14 per cent and the discharge of 10 employés accounted for the remaining per cent."

Mr. Kelly predicted two weeks ago that the lowered valuation of real estate in the south park district under the reassessment would force the board to slash appropriations. He declared that the board's revenue would be cut by $500,000 through the reassessment.

This estimate was made on a comparison of the assessors' valuations for assessment purposes in 1927 and 1928. These showed a decrease in property valuations of approximately $178,317,000. This cut, plus the loss and cost of tax collection will work the loss in revenue, Mr. Kelly explained.

Valuation Cut Hits Parks.

"When the assessors reduced loop valuations, they dealt a vital blow at the south park district," he said. "The loss came at a most unfortunate time. The district has taken on increased burdens in outer drive improvements, acquiring of many small parks, and general extension of duties in all branches of work."

Mr. Kelly conceded that there is some hope that the pay slash will not be permanent. If the board of review, which has ordered a resurvey of loop property, should raise valuations to their former level, the parks will have as much revenue as in former years and the employés will be put back upon a full time pay basis, he indicated.

SUBURBS FEEL PINCH

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Many suburbs of Chicago are beginning to feel the financial pinch as the breakdown in the city itself becomes more serious each day. In general, the suburbs' difficulties are a result of the delay in collecting 1928 and 1929 taxes.

Mount Prospect is passing the hat to get cash from parents to keep its schools in operation.

Mayor Peter J. Mors of Arlington Heights said his town's citizens have had three meetings to consider adoption of the same plan. He anticipated its adoption this week.

School Troubles in Blue Island.

Blue Island closed its night school on Jan. 15 to be certain that its other schools would remain open until the vacation period arrives.

Flossmoor is borrowing from its water and sewer funds to keep its other corporate services going.

Alvin Gold, president of the Homewood school board, said that his school teachers are paid until next Wednesday, when an effort will be made to find some more cash.

Frank Houcek, assessor of the town of Cicero, said that its municipal affairs "are as critical as Chicago's." Unable to get funds from other sources, the town persuaded the Western Electric company to put up $125,000 and take in exchange 1930 tax anticipation warrants.

Berwyn Is "Hard Pressed."

Byron C. Thorte, mayor of Berwyn, said that that suburb is "hard pressed." He added: "We seem to have borrowed all we can get and when that money runs out the next thing will be the issuance of scrip. We have prevailed upon one utility to accept tax anticipation warrants in payment for street lighting."

James L. Folan, Maywood village controller, said that Maywood is having "a hard time."

Evanston is seeking to borrow $600,000 in New York. L. J. Knapp, city controller, and Wirt Wright, of the Evanston State Bank and Trust company, are now in New York on that errand, and it is expected that they will succeed.

Charles M. Stevens, president of the Evanston City National bank and school treasurer, returned from New York yesterday with $925,000 for the Evanston schools. He sold the tax warrants to the Guaranty Trust company.

Conditions on North Shore.

All the north shore suburbs were represented yesterday as being in good condition. Wilmette two years ago had accumulated a saving of $65,000 on operation of its water works, which is now being lent to operate other corporate activities.

Kenilworth has been going on a cash basis with a margin of safety. Winnetka, which runs its water and electric plant, has accumulated nearly $350,000 surplus and has lent $135,000 of the amount to its schools. Glencoe has no trouble in getting all the cash it desires.

In striking contrast the residents of Mount Prospect have obtained cash for their schools by popular subscription for two months. The system was devised and put into effect by G. E. Zirkelbach of the school trustees. Notices were sent to all residents of the village and an appeal was made especially to parents of school children to put up $5 or $10 a month. Each family has a "pass book" in which contributions are recorded. When sufficient has been paid to buy a tax warrant, that is offered the parent.

Suburbs Differ from Chicago.

Except in a few instances where the community failed to live within its income the financial difficulties of the suburbs are due to lack of tax collections solely.

In Chicago the fundamental cause of the city's financial troubles is overspending, and no one was able to show a way out yesterday.

H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the board of education, said he had heard nothing from his agent in New York who is attempting to borrow $48,000,000 for the Chicago schools. The action of the Chicago and Cook County Bankers' association in denouncing the issuance of tax anticipation warrants to employés for salaries and its advice to its members not to cash such warrants or accept them as collateral is thought to have injured the chances of Mr. Caldwell in the east. Caldwell has called a conference of the neighborhood bankers in his office for tomorrow afternoon.

"I shall explain the situation to them and ask their coöperation," said Mr. Caldwell yesterday. "Nothing more."

Previously, however, he had said that he would not ask them to buy tax anticipation warrants.

City Controller Schmidt has written east in the hope of getting New York bankers to take a favorable view of Chicago's plight. In addition his office has sent a telegram to New York. So far the city has obtained no buyers for tax warrants.

Clark Plans Cash Hunt.

Some persons have attached considerable hope of obtaining cash to pay overdue salaries of city employés to the announcement of Ald. John S. Clark [30th], chairman of the city council finance committee, that he will ask the council tomorrow to appoint himself, Controller Schmidt, and Corporation Counsel Ettelson a committee to find buyers of the city corporate tax warrants. It has been represented that Ald. Clark desires to coöperate with Silas H. Strawn of the citizens' committee.

On that point, Mr. Clark said to a TRIBUNE representative yesterday:

"My position is that the committee which I propose to have appointed on Tuesday will first find out what Mr. Strawn has to offer before deciding on coöperating with him."

Asked why the aldermen were attempting to take over an executive function, Mr. Clark replied:

"I do not believe that the city council should take over the task of selling tax anticipation warrants. That is the duty of the controller. The only reason I'm in it is that the employés must be paid and something must be accomplished. Neither the controller nor the city administration has done anything yet."

LEGION POST DROPS WINNER OF PRIZE WAR NOVEL AS A MEMBER

Newton, Mass., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Miss Mary Lee of Chestnut Hill, author of the American Legion-Houghton Mifflin company prize winning war novel, "It's a Great War," has been dropped from the rolls of the Newton post of the American Legion because of ineligibility to membership in that organization, she revealed today.

Miss Lee, who was invited to join the post ten years ago, says she was invited to resign by Commander John Henderson of the Newton post, a week after the publication of her novel, which deals rather frankly with the life of a doughboy in France.

Officials of the Legion confirmed the report that a post in Maryland objected to Miss Lee's qualifications as a member through lack of army or Red Cross connections. Her war record included two years' service in France, most of which was spent in civilian employ of the A. E. F.

TURN SPOTLIGHT ON POLITICS VS. REASSESSMENT

Causes of Present Tax Situation Explained.

It is generally charged and commonly believed that politics has retarded the reassessment of all real estate in Cook county. That delay in turn has precipitated—although it is not looked upon as the fundamental cause—the financial breakdown of the local governments, with their estimated $280,000,000 of floating indebtedness and $11,275,500 more owing in salaries to 40,122 public employés.

The political aspects of the reassessment are simple and number only two. Certain politicians, to gain votes, are attempting to reduce the taxes of small and medium property owners. Others are attempting to fasten more taxes on the large property owners. The objective of both schools of politicians is the same, the gaining of prestige with the electorate.

Purpose of the Reassessment.

To show the methods of each, it is necessary to explain certain tentative results and theories of the reassessment as compared with the 1927 assessment. One purpose of the reassessment was to abolish the hit and miss system, by which the property owner with large political influence paid relatively little taxes and the owner with small or no pull paid high and excessive taxes.

The other aim was to substitute an equitable and semi-scientific system of valuing real estate for purposes of taxation. To gain these two ends an appraisal was made of every parcel of land and building in the county.

The 37% Equalization Factor.

The appraisal showed the real estate of the county worth $9,367,077,325, as compared with the 1927 valuation of $3,555,328,853. It was not the intention of the reassessment to increase taxes, so the board of assessors decided, after extensive investigation, that real estate throughout Illinois was valued for taxing purposes at an average of 37 per cent of its actual value. Therefore the assessors took 37 per cent of the $9,367,077,325 real estate values found in Cook county, or $3,466,545,143, as the real estate assessed valuation for the county.

That happens to be $88,783,710 lower than the assessed valuation for 1927. To that extent, or about $4,439,000 at the Chicago average tax rate, taxes in the county as a whole have been decreased by the reassessment. No politician, high or low, has protested against that result.

Values in City Decreased.

As between the area within the city and that outside within the county, the reassessment decreased the assessed valuation within the city $415,995,273 and in the country towns boosted the values $327,211,563.

On a percentage basis Chicago went down 17 or 18 per cent and the country towns were jumped up more than 100 per cent. To present it as plainly as possible the 1927 assessed valuation of $3,247,841,445 within the city was reduced by the reassessment to $2,831,846,172, while in the country towns the 1927 assessed valuation of $307,487,408 was boosted by the reassessment to $634,698,971.

Right at that point certain politicians have stepped in. They are attempting, or pretending to attempt, to lower the valuations for the country towns, thereby giving them the impression that they have been unjustly assessed. The result is that an enormous number of complaints have been stirred up.

The Politicians' Method.

It is no secret that politicians for years have been aiding the country towns to escape a large part of their state, county, sanitary district and forest preserve taxes. The system was to keep valuations down.

This same method of winning political favor is being applied to certain outlying sections of Chicago.

These sections in Chicago were valued for tax purposes in 1927 at $45,329,187. In the reassessment they are valued at $95,392,980. Politicians have stirred up these sections to protest against the reassessment.

Loop Valuations Attacked.

The third point of political attack is against the reassessment in the downtown section of Chicago, the loop. Mayor Thompson and President Caldwell of the school board have come out in the open against the loop reassessment and have created so much sentiment against it that the board of review has ordered "a survey" of the loop.

The mayor and Caldwell have publicly urged that $300,000,000 be added to the loop valuations, and have charged that the equivalent of that burden has been fastened upon the small property owners of Chicago through the reassessment.

If the loop is considered as bounded by the lake, the river, south branch, and Van Buren street, as it usually is, the reassessment reduced loop values $119,000,000.

SPAIN'S DICTATOR ADOPTS 'SLOW BUT SURE' POLICY

Berenguer Says Nation Must Be Patient.

BY JAY ALLEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, Spain, Feb. 2.—Spain has grown another one of those amiable, unassuming dictators, or so at least Gen. Damaso Berenguer revealed himself to be tonight in an interview. Alfonso became king of Spain by divine right, but he keeps his job by a liberal exercise of military wit. His wit apparently tells him that Spain would not put up with any hard faced dictator with a grand manner.

The stoutish and smiling Gen. Berenguer is anything but this. Talking to a visitor of his difficult task, not once did he strike a heroic attitude or raise his voice. Nor did he dramatize the grave situation to which he falls heir, namely that the republican sentiment is spreading like wildfire, the army is up to its neck in politics, and the country disturbed, both in spirit and economy, by Primo de Rivera's six years of power.

A Laughing Dictator.

Gen. Berenguer tonight showed that he is a smiling, if not exactly laughing, dictator, the same as Primo was.

"I have formed a transition government and I am going to try to bridge the gap to normalcy with the least possible friction," he said. "I cannot talk for foreign consumption, because I have not said anything in Spain. I can tell you this much, press censorship will not go right away. If everybody behaves, things will go smoothly. But people must have patience."

Gen. Berenguer said that, according to his information, everything is calm in Spain and probably will stay that way. He added that he knew nothing of the labor manifesto, which demanded a republic and was aimed at the king. He also declined to talk about the drop in the peseta.

Sheds His Uniform.

Gen. Berenguer is one of Spain's great political generals, but he is now wearing a double breasted suit. His aids, officers, too, have also shed their uniforms. He gets to the office at 8:30 p. m., works until 10:30 o'clock, and then goes home to dinner, an old Spanish custom.

Such is Berenguer. He is no Mussolini, observers say.

WHARTON ASKS PAROLE; FRIENDS RALLY TO SIDE

Aided by Chicago friends, Charles B. Wharton, former congressman and assistant state's attorney, has applied for parole from Leavenworth penitentiary, it was learned yesterday. The application comes up for hearing before the federal parole board Feb. 13. Wharton was convicted of complicity in the $133,000 Evergreen Park mail robbery. He was sentenced to two years and fined $10,000 by Federal Judge Wilkerson.

Wharton's friends, it is understood, are pointing to his long standing at the Chicago bar before his conviction. They also point out he is a first offender. Fifty of his friends are said to have written the board.

Wharton's conduct while in the prison is declared to have been exemplary.

Woman and Girl Hurt as They Are Hit by Street Car

Mrs. John Vittellaro, 50 years old, 640 Van Buren street, was perhaps fatally injured, and Helen Kemp, 14 years old, 726 South Crawford avenue, was seriously hurt when they were struck last night by a street car at Harrison street and Karlov avenue. Mrs. Vittellaro and her school girl companion walked into the path of the east bound street car.

Hit on Head with Pipe During Fight; May Die

James Collins, 20 years old, 4923 Lexington street, was probably fatally injured last night when he was struck on the head with an iron pipe during a fight with Michael Bartlett, 19 years old, 4920 Lexington street, at Cicero avenue and Congress street.

Bartlett fled following the fight, but surrendered a few hours later.

TURIN WELCOMES ITALIAN HEIR AND BELGIAN BRIDE

Princess Enters Her New Home.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TURIN, Italy, Feb. 2.—Amid festivities which rivaled those in Rome a few weeks ago Crown Prince Humbert and his Belgian bride, Princess Marie José, this afternoon returned from their honeymoon, spent among the snows of Val Diosta. Their entry into the city which is to be their permanent home was a triumph, even though snow covered the streets and the weather was foggy and raw.

Representatives of all Piedmont Fascist organizations welcomed the royal couple when they stepped off the train. A triumphal archway bridged the street leading from the station to the palace and the entire city was decorated with festoons and flags. The royal carriage was drawn by eight thoroughbreds. Troops and police lined the streets.

150,000 Greet Couple.

Out of Turin's half million population it is estimated that 150,000 turned out to cheer the royal pair. The prince and princess had to come out on the balcony of their palace repeatedly to acknowledge the plaudits of the vast multitude. The palace is a huge edifice of 150 rooms and requires half a dozen cooks and numerous servants.

The princess' homecoming outfit was a symphony in brown. The prince wore a colonel's uniform. An endless variety of colorful uniforms and peasant costumes was included in the immense procession to the palace. The four snow white chargers which Regent Nicholas Horthy of Hungary presented to the couple as a wedding gift were prominent.

The whole city was lighted tonight with a special system of electric lights, installed in honor of the occasion. The illuminations gave an almost daylight effect.

Perform Special Opera.

The princess was a guest of honor at the Regio opera house tonight at a gala performance. This had been reserved as a surprise for her. It was a "Flemish legend" consisting of a series of picturesque historical scenes of Flemish life, accompanied by music by Mascagni, Zandonai, Pizzitti, and other famous composers.

The royal pair were presented by the city of Turin with a precious spinet ornamented with gold. The spinet dates back to the year 1639.

2 Yanks Break Into Harem; Dutch Warn U. S. Skippers

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

THE HAGUE, Holland, Feb. 2.—The Dutch magistrate of Medan, in northern Sumatra, has issued a warning to captains of American ships to watch their sailors. Two Yankee sailors at Deli, the port of the inland city of Medan, caused a near riot by breaking into the garden of the sultan of Deli's harem. The sultan, fearing for his womenfolk, had them arrested.

Black Is Popular

Young ladies who exploit the mode this spring will be as likely as not to appear like a group of youthful war widows, so prevalent is the use of black for every hour of the day. Numerous attractive costumes to be worn at the fashion promenade of the Chicago Woman's Apparel Manufacturers, opening tonight at the College Inn in the Hotel Sherman for a week's run under the auspices of the Associated Dress Industries of America, introduce a profusion of black.

Evening gowns utilize both lacquered and soft materials in this color—in crisp taffeta, clinging lace, filmy chiffon, or stiff moire. The most piquant and saucy of the lounging costumes also are black, with brilliant touches borrowed from a pirate's garb or from that of the Hungarian Gypsy. Ten thousand buyers are expected to attend.

4 AUTO DEATHS RAISE 1930 TOLL OF COUNTY TO 60

The death of four automobile victims yesterday increased Cook county's 1930 motor toll to 60. The victims:

Walter Anderson, 29 year old painter of 6230 Ellis avenue. Died in the Auburn Park hospital of a pelvic fracture suffered when a car driven by W. J. Butler, 7250 Calumet avenue, ran over him at 90th and Throop streets.

Michael Rynne, 50 year old plasterer of 4016 Gladys avenue. Injuries suffered a week ago when he was hit by a Checker cab at Harrison street and Independence boulevard resulted in his death in the county hospital. The cab driver, Robert Durand, 518 North Kedzie avenue, has been at liberty under bond.

Mrs. Edward Flynn, 24 years old, colored, of 3327 Giles avenue. Killed last night when struck by a bus at Thirty-third street and Indiana avenue. The driver, Frank Pamasti, 26 years old, 645 West 46th street, was held.

John Szabis, 53 years old, 3109 South Ridgway avenue. Found dead at 18th and Lincoln streets with a fractured skull and internal injuries indicating that he had been struck by a hit and run driver. No witnesses to the accident could be found.

John Pinunti, 25 years old, 1800 Maryland street; Gary, was injured fatally early this morning when an auto in which he was riding struck a telephone pole as the driver swerved to avoid a collision with another car. The accident occurred at 11th street and Broadway in Gary.

Boy, 11, Who Upset Pan of Hot Water, Dies of Burns

Robert Sannon, 11 years old, who was scalded on Saturday evening when he pulled a pan of hot water from the kitchen table in his home at 3423 Armitage avenue, died of his burns last night at St. Elizabeth's hospital.

HUNDRED GUESTS ROUTED BY FIRE IN N. SIDE HOTEL

Fire which drove more than 100 persons to the street and caused property damage estimated at more than $75,000 partially demolished the Hollywood Beach Apartment hotel, 5653 Kenmore avenue, early yesterday.

Peter Johnson, who occupied a third floor apartment near where the fire originated, was cut off by the flames from escape down the stairway. Johnson suspended himself by his hands from an outside window until firemen could reach him with ladders and take him to the ground. Many of the guests, fleeing only in their night clothes, were given shelter across the street in the Valencia hotel.

Apparently the fire began in the room of A. Seitz, on the third floor, who awoke to find his room filled with smoke and flames. He ran out into the corridor and notified Miss Ione Scott, the switchboard operator, who summoned the fire department. Miss Scott then telephoned all the rooms, awaking the guests.

ELOPEMENT LAID TO HEIRESS' FEAR OF BIG WEDDING

Couzens' Daughter Talks of Romance.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—It was not the fear of parental disapproval that caused Miss Margaret Couzens, daughter of Senator and Mrs. James Couzens of Detroit, and heiress to the Couzens millions, to elope Saturday afternoon with William Jefferies Chewning, Washington bank clerk, to be quietly married in Baltimore—it was Mrs. Chewning's aversion to "big weddings."

"I think big weddings are messy," Mrs. Chewning said this afternoon in their apartment at the Monticello hotel.

"With a big wedding," Mrs. Chewning said, "there is always the announcement of the engagement several weeks before the wedding and friends, through the kindness of their heart, seem to think that they must at once arrange a series of parties and dances and other things with the result that by the time the date of the wedding arrives you are completely worn out.

Planned March Wedding.

"We had planned to be married in March, but when we saw that rumors of our engagement were getting into the papers we decided to get married at once."

With the blessings of her father given over long distance telephone yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Chewning was radiantly happy.

This morning Mrs. Chewning called her father over long distance telephone, but the connection was bad and they could not understand each other. This afternoon Senator Couzens called his daughter to wish her and her new husband happiness and urge that they come back home soon. Senator Couzens has never seen his son-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. Chewning will return to Washington some time before Feb. 10, Mr. Chewning stated.

To Live on His Salary.

"We've already got our apartment picked out," Mrs. Chewning said, "and we're going to live on my husband's salary."

"Yes," Mrs. Chewning said, "we'll live on Jeff's salary alone. It's a small apartment and I'm going to do all my housework. I know how, too. Studied domestic science for four years and I can cook everything from bread to eggs."

"Are you going to continue your art studies?" the reporter queried of Mrs. Chewning.

"No," was her reply, "I'll be too busy looking after my husband and keeping house, to bother with that any more."

Mrs. Chewning exhibited her engagement ring, a large amethyst set in gold.

Proud of Plain Ring.

"It was given to my ancestor, Sir Herbert Jeffries, royal governor of Virginia, by King Charles II.," the bridegroom said.

"I'm so proud of it," Mrs. Chewning said, "but here's the ring I prize the most."

She held up her left hand showing the wedding finger encircled by a plain platinum wedding ring.

Mr. and Mrs. Chewning left Norfolk for Virginia Beach tonight and will spend the next several days motoring to historic scenes in this section, including Williamsburg, Jamestown and Yorktown.

"This is Jeff's part of Virginia," Mrs. Chewning said, "and I want to see it all."

Ex-Convict, Trapped in Burglary, Battles Cop

Charles A. Brown, 34 years old, an ex-convict, who gave his address as 930 Sheridan road, Chicago, had another revolver up his sleeve when he was captured while robbing a safe in the offices of the Security Building and Loan association in Elgin. Policeman Charles Struckman, who caught Brown, took one pistol from his prisoner and was marching him to the station when Brown brought his other gun into action. Struckman's right hand was severely burned by the exploding cartridge. A pedestrian came to Struckman's assistance and Brown was overpowered.

An Indian war dance by Little Driving Deer, 6 years old, and Evergreen Tree was the feature yesterday afternoon of the regular meeting of the Grand Council of American Indians on the 18th floor of the Stevens building, 17 North State street. Evergreen Tree is chief rain maker of the council fire.

Cultists on Trial Today for Slaying 2 Policemen

Four Negro members of a spiritualistic cult will be placed on trial before Judge Harry B. Miller in the Criminal court today charged with the murder of two policemen. They are Ira Johnson Bey, Compton Johnson Bey, Eugene Jackson Bey, and E. Mealy El, leader of the American Moorish cult. They are charged with murdering Policemen Jessis Hults and William Gallagher on Sept. 25 in a pitched battle staged in cult headquarters at 4139 South Park avenue. Acting on word that attempts would be made to "spirit" the Negroes from the courtroom, police have been assigned to guard the doors and search every one entering for weapons.

Hold Woman for Spilling Alcohol in Auto Crash

Westchester, Pa., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Mrs. Victoria Lavella, said to be a resident of Schoeneck, Pa., was held in $1,000 bail here today on charges of being one of two young women who dumped about 75 gallons of alcohol near Devon, Pa., Jan. 14, after their automobile had collided with another car.

School Patrons Object to Transfer of Pupils

A protest against the transfer of seventh and eighth grade pupils of the Lovett school at Bloomingdale and Narragansett avenues to the new Burbank Junior High school at Armitage and Melvina avenues will be voiced tonight by residents of the school district at a meeting at the Galewood Congregational church, 1805 North Mulligan avenue. The new school will open for the first time today.

SCRAMBLE TODAY FOR TOP PLACES ON G. O. P. BALLOT

Mailed Petitions to Get the Preference.

First place in the list of primary candidates for various county offices is a prize for which Republicans were contesting yesterday in getting their petitions into the mail for delivery this morning to County Clerk Robert M. Sweitzer. At 8:30 o'clock this morning Mr. Sweitzer and Daniel A. Carey, chief clerk of Sweitzer's election department, will open the mail and preference in primary ballot positions will be given to petitions brought by the postman over those filed in person.

Today is also filing date at Springfield for candidates for state and national offices.

Republican politicians regard first place in the filings as having an advantage of 50,000 votes. This is on the theory that at least that many voters are interested in only one or two candidates, and for the balance of the ticket they put their cross opposite the top name.

Only One Democratic Contest.

Democrats are not concerned over primary ballot positions. Anton J. Cermak, president of the county board and chairman of the Democratic county central committee, said he does not anticipate any real opposition to the candidates selected at the party caucus in the last week. Against his wishes, petitions will be filed naming him as a candidate to succeed himself, and although he may withdraw if nominated, he will probably be the only slate Democrat to have a contest. County Commissioner Frank J. Wilson has announced his candidacy for the presidency of the board.

1,000 Springfield Petitions.

In the filings for state and national offices the petitions are presented to the secretary of state at Springfield and the names rotate on the ballot—being first in one precinct, second in the next, and so forth—excepting for state representative and state senator. But there were more than 1,000 petitions on hand yesterday in Secretary Stratton's offices, according to dispatches from Springfield. Because of a conflict on the first date for filing Secretary Stratton received petitions on Saturday but will not file them officially until today.

SAVAGE ENTERS RACE

Howard P. Savage, past national commander of the American Legion, made formal announcement yesterday of his candidacy for county treasurer. He was entered in the Republican primary by the Republican Ex-Service Men's league and he has other independent backing.

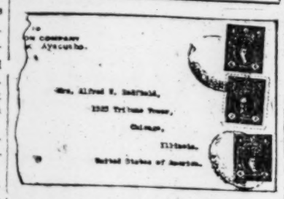
"If I am nominated and elected I expect to manage the office in strict accordance with the law and in a way that will meet with the approval of the people of Cook county," his announcement read. "I would not want the position unless I felt that I could be of real service in it."

THE TRIBUNE CONTEST OF INTERESTING LETTERS

Every morning The Tribune prints a photograph of the stamp and postmark and the name and address of the recipient of a letter from an interesting or little known place, with a map showing its origin and a brief word of description.

If you have received a letter from an interesting or little known place send the envelope to The Tribune, stating name of place where it was mailed. The sender of every envelope which is reproduced will be paid one dollar.

From Ayacucho, Peru.



Letter received by Mrs. A. W. Redfield, 1523 Tribune Tower, Chicago.

Ayacucho is the capital of the department of the same name in the central southern section of Peru. The city was founded in 1539 by Pizarro, the conqueror of the Peru of the Incas. It was known as Guamanga down to 1825, when it was given its present name in honor of the decisive battle fought by Gen. Sucré with the Spanish viceroy, La Serna, Dec. 9, 1824, on the plain of Ayacucho.

Daughter Dies in Futile Effort to Save Mother

Hastings, Minn., Feb. 2.—(AP)—A daughter's efforts to save her mother resulted in the deaths of both today. They were Mrs. F. A. Swanson, 54, and Miss Helen Swanson, 21, who died from burns. Mrs. Swanson was cleaning clothes with gasoline.

TWO NEW RIVALS BATTLE REID IN CONGRESS RACE

Elgin Mayor and Winfield President Are Foes.

Congressional politics in the Eleventh district, consisting of Will, Kane, Du Page, and McHenry counties, has been enlivened during the last few days by the appearance of two new candidates against Congressman Frank R. Reid of Aurora.

The most recent entrant is Mayor Earl R. Kelly of Elgin, who has served two terms as head of his home city and is considered a strong vote getter in Kane county and the adjoining territory.

Winfield President in Race.

Another newcomer of last week was S. L. Orwall, who was elected president of the village of Winfield, Du Page county, last week. He is president of the Greater Du Page County association and belongs to a number of organizations. He is 35 years old and since the war has been in the insurance business.

Even before their appearance in the race there was one candidate against Reid, Raymond F. Bick, chief clerk in a Chicago railway office, whose home is in Westmont, Du Page county. One of the planks in his platform emphasized the wet and dry issue by pledging him against appropriations for the enforcement of the anti-liquor laws.

Bick is only 27 years old, but his bringing the prohibition question into the campaign against Reid, a dry, although his district is considered wet, was thought important, as it encouraged the wets to the point of agitating for a bigger candidate on their side of the controversy.

McCarthy May Enter.

Mayor Kelly is a dry and it is expected that if a survey shows he will split the anti-liquor vote with Reid the real candidate of the wets may be State Representative Frank A. McCarthy of Elgin, who has a solid following in Kane county and eight years ago ran a close race against the congressional incumbent at that time, Ira C. Copley. It is understood that many of the Copley leaders would be with McCarthy if he should go this time.

Reports from the district indicate that Chauncey Reed, state's attorney of Du Page county, and C. E. Pearsall, wealthy butter and dairy products man of Elgin, will not become candidates.

KILLS SUITOR; WOUNDS WOMAN.

Joseph Hart, 35 years old, janitor at 1801 South State street, shot and killed Fred Noble, 30 years old, and wounded Miss Leslie Hart, 32 years old, no relation of the janitor's, in the woman's apartment at 1801 South State street yesterday. All are colored.

COL. SMITH PLANS WAR ON BRIDGE EVIL IF ELECTED

If elected to congress from the Tenth Illinois district, Col. A. V. Smith, now state's attorney of Lake county, will join with Chicago congressmen to get relief from the bridge opening nuisance in Chicago, he declared yesterday. Part of the Tenth district is in Chicago and it goes north to the state border, including all of Lake county.

Col. Smith says there is no river in his home town of Waukegan to annoy the entire community whenever a tug comes along. But he has experienced numerous delays in traffic jams in Chicago when bridges were opened during rush hours to permit a tug or a dredge or a flatboat to pass.

He said he would be in entire sympathy with the movement of Chicago's congressmen to get the war department to agree to lengthening the "closed bridge period" of the day. He would favor limiting river traffic in the main to the night hours.

YOUTHS PREFER EVANSTON JAIL TO NILES POLICE

Three Chicago youths who confessed a robbery which had never been committed puzzled the Evanston police for a half hour yesterday after they had been taken to the police station by Chief of Police Peter Oszakowski of Niles. And it was not until Chief Oszakowski washed his hands of the trio and returned to Niles that they explained their strange confession.

When the chief picked up Francis Moreth, 16 years old, 7029 Vincennes avenue; Anthony Schneider, 16 years old, 1627 Burling street; and Edward Reibner, 17 years old, 6646 Wentworth avenue, at Higgins road in Niles, they immediately admitted that they had robbed a man in Evanston. Oszakowski then took the youths to Evanston and Lieut. Carl Ekman continued the questioning, eliciting only the information that they had taken $6 from some one.

Lieut. Ekman was unable to verify their story and when Chief Oszakowski left, Moreth admitted they hadn't committed a robbery.

"We were afraid of the Niles police," he said. "We'd heard a lot about their rough tactics with prisoners and we thought we would be all right if we could get out of their hands into Evanston."

The youths were released.

CONGRESS ONLY ONE-FIFTH WET, W. C. T. U. FINDS

Only one-fifth of the membership of both houses of congress is wet and 20 per cent of the wet members come from New York, according to Mrs. Ella A. Boole, national president of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, in a letter sent yesterday from headquarters in Evanston to the state presidents of the organization.

Mrs. Boole asserted that opponents of prohibition have dwindled until there are only 108 among the 531 members of congress, and that "underneath the noise" of the wets the Hoover administration "is moving ahead effectively" to enforce the 18th amendment.

"Federal enforcement is better today than ever," the letter said. "The fleets of rum ships have gone. The well financed syndicates of criminals who diverted industrial alcohol are being broken up. Illicit liquor making is being transformed from large to small units and these will disappear through a campaign of education."

"L" Trains in Loop Halted by Grounding of Cable

Elevated trains in the loop were tied up for more than half an hour yesterday when the power was cut off by a grounded cable. Several of the trains were between stations when the power was stopped and passengers were forced to wait until the power was restored and the cars moved before they could alight. West side trains were rerouted through the Market street stub and south side trains were reversed at Congress street until the loop service was resumed.

HUNT FOR CLEWS IN NEW KILLING BY AUTO GUNMEN

Joseph Cada 4th Victim in Four Days.

was a sort of a black sheep. The rest of the family is all right. I tried to show him he was going the wrong way. I talked with him time and again. When I finally saw he didn't intend to change, I cut loose from him and I don't know what he's been doing."

Cada was dressed in a dark suit of expensive material. He wore a high priced dark overcoat and a gray fedora hat and spats.

Cada's widow, Josephine, who lived with him in their home at 1921 Scoville avenue, Berwyn, said he was the father of a 2 year old daughter. She protested she knew nothing of his business—that he never told her anything except that he sold used automobiles. She said he left home Saturday afternoon and she never saw him alive after that.

Investigation of Cada's affairs led the police back to the revolver battle at Randolph and Clark street in which Charles [Babe] Barron, 28 years old, and James Walsh, 29 years old, were believed to have shot each other on the evening of Nov. 29. It led them also to believe that Cada's taking off might have some connection with the arrest of Robert Ryan, James Fiore, and Lewis Mathieson while the trio was attempting to extort $5,000 from Robert Barr in his brokerage office at 100 La Salle street a few days ago.

Cada and Ryan both were on the scene when Barron and Walsh shot it out. Cada was arrested as he was taking Walsh to a hospital after Barron had fatally wounded him. Ryan, a friend of Barron, was arrested on the scene of the shooting with a smoking pistol in his hand. Walsh died a few days after the shooting. Barron recovered.

Cada Escapes Indictment.

A coroner's jury recommended that both Cada and Ryan be held as accessories to the murder of Walsh, but the grand jury refused to indict them.

Police learned that the slain Walsh and Cada had been friends from boyhood, that they were born and reared in the neighborhood of 19th and Peoria streets, in the heart of "The Valley."

Police Give Their Theory.

Thus the detectives theorized that a fierce enmity must have sprung up between Cada, six feet tall and handsome—a Beau Brummel in matters of dress—and the men who killed Walsh, his lifelong friend, in the street battle. They theorized that Cada, because of that enmity, may have been suspected of having turned stool pigeon and been responsible for the timely arrival of the detectives who arrested Ryan, Fiore, and Mathieson as they stood over Barr in his office with revolvers to his head while he wrote out a $5,000 check.

Joseph De Pietro, 2510 West Polk street, and Joseph Devonaro were arrested yesterday in the latter's room at 1812 Washington boulevard on orders of Pat Roche, chief investigator for State's Attorney Swanson. Roche said he wanted to question them in connection with the Rosenheim killing.

Whalen Would Bar Parkers and Build 'Hotel Garages'

New York, Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Elimination of parking in all of Manhattan south of 61st street, except narrow strips along the East and North river and the lower side, is recommended by Police Commissioner Whalen in a report to Mayor Walker, made public today. Mr. Whalen asks that the board amend zoning regulations to permit the erection of "hotel garages" to accommodate the 40,000 automobiles that, he estimates, are parked daily in this area.

FOUND DEAD ON STAIRS.

Theodore Thordjornson, 60 years old, a painter, was found dead last night on the stairs leading to a basement in the rear of 860 Fletcher street, apparently having fallen and broken his neck. The body was taken to a morgue at 3154 North Clark street.

START 17½ HOUR AIR-RAIL SERVICE TO NEW YORK CITY

Costs 30 Cents Above Extra Fare Trains.

BY ROBERT WOOD.

While the New York Central and the Pennsylvania railroads are debating the wisdom of instituting 18 hour service between Chicago and New York, another passenger air line yesterday announced a new schedule which will make it possible to carry passengers between here and Manhattan in 17½ hours.

Officials of the New York Central recently indicated they do not expect serious competition from air lines. But Stout Air lines, flying between Chicago and Detroit, yesterday reported a full cabin in the first flight on the new schedule.

In New York Next Morning.

The schedule makes it possible for the traveler to leave Chicago after lunch by plane and arrive in New York early the next morning. This is the second plane and train service to New York. The first, operated by Universal Air lines, provides 18 hour service.

The Stout Air lines ships leave Chicago at 3 p. m. and land in Detroit at 4:20 in time to put passengers aboard a New York train at 7 o'clock. The train arrives at its destination at 9:30 New York time, the next morning. The air-rail total fare is $51.60, 30 cents more than the extra fare trains.

Other Service at 4 P. M.

Universal's train-plane service starts from Chicago at 4 p. m., the planes flying as far as Cleveland where they land at 7:45 p. m., in time to meet the New York train at 9 o'clock. The passenger reaches New York at 9:50 the next morning. Fare for both train and plane including a lower berth is $47.38.

Both services are designed to meet the demands of the business man who is kept in Chicago until afternoon and is thus unable to leave on the morning trains.

Demand U. S. Make Public Causes of Plane Crashes

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Aroused by the persistent refusal of the department of commerce to make public its reports on the causes and responsibility for airplane accidents, two senators are sponsoring measures in congress intended to compel the department to disclose the results of such investigations.

The bills are those of Senator Hiram Bingham [Rep., Conn.] and Senator S. G. Bratton [Dem., N. M.]. Each of them authorizes the secretary of commerce to hold hearings, subpoena witnesses, and put them under oath, and direct him to give to the public complete reports of his findings immediately after they are recorded.

Oppose Bills' Provisions.

Although officials of the department, in particular Clarence M. Young, assistant secretary for aeronautics, oppose the provisions of the bills, they have strong support in congress and it is believed that one of them may be passed over the heads of the commerce authorities.

Several times recently not only the public, but members of congress have been prevented from obtaining information about major air tragedies because of the department's policy of strict secrecy. Senator Bratton tried in vain to obtain data on the wreck of a Transcontinental Air Transport company plane in his state which caused the loss of eight lives.

Agitation over the secrecy attitude of the department came to a head on the floor of the senate a few days ago when Senator Bingham, who is president of the National Aeronautic association and an aviation authority, and Senator Bratton urged quick action on their bill. Bingham said he thought it "possible that some of the aviation companies are blocking the passage of this proposed legislation."

Aroused by Wreck Reports.

The Connecticut senator was especially aroused by a report of the wreck of a Universal corporation plane at Kansas City Jan. 27, stating that employés "equipped with axes, hacksaws, and ropes, were dispatched to destroy all evidence of the accident."

Austrian Fascists Hold Huge Tax Protest Meet

VIENNA, Feb. 2.—(AP)—As a protest against heavy city taxes, the Fascist Heimwehr staged a great demonstration today at Votiv kirche [St. Savior's church], built in memory of the late Emperor Franz Josef's escape from assassination in 1853. Many thousand attended. The demonstration passed off without rioting.

ASKS ACCOUNTING OF EXPENSES FOR PHONE RATE SUIT

Ald. Arthur F. Albert [43d] announced yesterday he will ask the council to obtain an accounting on the city's expenditure in the telephone litigation in which the federal court decided against the city last week. He said he believed whatever the city spent, it wasted.

The litigation was begun under the administration of Mayor Dever and for four years was in the hands of Attorney Stephen A. Foster. When Thompson came back to office former Judge Bernard P. Barasa took it over and when the case was ready for trial last spring Corporation Counsel Ettelson retained Attorneys Benjamin F. Goldstein and George I. Haight.

WINTER FLIGHT DESCRIBED BY ARMY AVIATOR

Royce Tells of Battles with Storms.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Maj. Ralph Royce, commanding the First Pursuit group, United States air corps, stationed at Selfridge field, Mount Clemens, Mich., related here today the story of the flight of his command, 3,700 miles to Spokane and return during January.

Flying much of the time in temperatures well below zero, facing day after day of storm, and suffering from frozen faces, hands and feet, 17 of 18 flyers of the Curtiss-Hawk pursuit planes completed the tour in good condition.

Only One Plane Lost.

"The planes flew at altitudes ranging from ten feet above the ground to 18,000 feet. They were handicapped by frozen engines and the failure of heating apparatus. On one occasion, 16 of the 18 planes were caught in a blinding snowstorm and high wind, but all 16 landed without injury to the pilots and with the loss of only one plane, although they came to earth among barns and houses on a fenced prairie.

On another occasion, in a driving snowstorm, they flew their planes, which are of the open cockpit type, single file through a high and winding canyon.

Blizzard Obscured View.

The landing in the blizzard occurred at Beach, N. D., on the return flight. "We could see nothing," Maj. Royce said. "I knew that we must land. We came into Beach with the buildings in the town looming higher than our altitude when we were almost upon them. I was leading and I landed first, trusting to luck that I would get away with it. I cut the gun and landed blind, went through three fences and stopped.

"I climbed out, wondering what was happening to the others. I could hear them buzzing around so close overhead that it seemed as if they would strike me."

All Down Within Mile.

"Now and then a darting plane appeared in the storm and roared by, the pilot trying to peer through the curtain of white needles which cut through the mask into his face. One by one, the planes landed, all but one within less than a mile of the leader. Lieut. E. K. Warburton lost his plane."

The purpose of the expedition was to test the efficiency of both airplanes and service under midwinter conditions on an extended cross country flight.

BIND WATCHMAN; ROB PLANT.

Three gunmen yesterday tide up Charles King, watchman at the Davies Supply company, 6601 Grand avenue, and carried away brass fittings valued at $1,500.

DUTCH PRINCESS ON GERMAN VISIT TO PICK CONSORT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Feb. 2.—Romance is drawing Queen Wilhelmina and her daughter, Princess Juliana, the future queen of Holland, to Oberstdorf, in northern Bavaria. Their visit is to last three weeks.

Oberstdorf is a winter sport center but the real purpose of their stay is to meet again Prince Leopold of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha and other German, Danish and Swedish princes to enable Princess Juliana to choose a husband as her consort and future prince of the Netherlands.

Obertsdorf is not far from Coburg, the home of Prince Leopold of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, who made a deep impression on Princess Juliana when they met last year. Princess Juliana has just taken her doctor's degree, and now that her studies are finished her shrewd mother wants her to look over the matrimonial field.

'DO BE PATIENT!' ROBINSON URGES U. S. OVER RADIO

Naval Delegate Predicts "Probable Success."

New York, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Senator Joseph T. Robinson [Dem., Ark.], member of the United States delegation to the naval conference at London, today told an American radio audience that "previous conferences and diplomatic negotiations have unquestionably prepared the way for probable success" of the conference.

Speaking from London over a hookup of the Columbia broadcasting system, the Democratic leader in the senate requested his colleagues in that body "not to grow impatient because of the delay here."

Outlines U. S. Position.

He asked them to think of the delays in the senate "since the tariff bill was brought forth" and continued:

"Surely we shall not fail here without full consciousness of the significance of our failure. It means a renewal and quickening of naval construction and consequent anxiety among the people of the naval powers, certain to bring forth insecurity and suspicion."

Outlining some points of the American delegation's position, Senator Robinson said:

"We would abolish the submarine. Failing in that, our desire is to restrict its number and its use against merchant vessels.

"U. S. and British Equality."

"Succeeding in arrangement after cruisers, submarines and destroyers, we desire also to reduce the battleship replacement program contemplated by the Washington conference treaty. All limitations and reductions, supported by our delegation, are conditioned that equality between Great Britain and the United States shall result."

The senator mentioned several of the difficulties attendant upon the conference, but said, "We hope in concert with other delegations to find a basis of agreement fair to all."

IOWAN ACCUSED OF DUMPING OUT LIQUOR EVIDENCE

Keokuk, Ia., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Something new in law enforcement developed in Superior court here when James Griffith was charged with obstructing justice because he dumped out liquor when his place was raided before the officers could seize it.

So far as is known this is the first case in the Mississippi valley in which suit has been brought against a man for dumping out liquor evidence. The case come up Feb. 10 and will be watched with interest by enforcement officers.

BUCKET SHOP DRIVE IS ANNOUNCED FOR TODAY IN NEW YORK

New York, Feb. 2.—[Special.]—An intensive drive against bucket shop operators, tipsters, and others dealing fraudulently in stocks and securities will begin tomorrow, according to an announcement today by Assistant Attorney General Watson Washburn, in charge of the state bureau of securities. Mr. Washburn said he will ask for imposition of jail sentences in cases where convictions are obtained.

Mr. Washburn announced that all criminal stock fraud cases will be tried before Magistrate Simpson, who was quoted by Mr. Washburn as saying the cases prosecuted by the state bureau of securities will be given preference on the calendar list.

FIRST TEST FOR NAVAL SLASHERS DUE TOMORROW

Pick Adams to Act as U. S. Spokesman.

away between cable reports of more important doings in India, Kenya, and Somaliland, from the British viewpoint; I asked the editor of a great London daily to explain the phenomenon of this journalistic, if not public, apathy.

"There really is very little public interest in this conference," he said. "These international conferences, particularly to reduce armament and establish a parity between Great Britain and the United States is an old story to the British public.

"For more than a decade we have been hearing that Great Britain was to yield the mastery of the seas. We are going to have a parity with America. But it never happens. They cut down both the British and American navies at the Washington conference, but I rather think Britannia still rules the waves, don't you?

"Sea Britain's Business."

"You see it is quite unthinkable Britannia should not. The sea is our business, our trade, our life. We are a sea empire. Any time Great Britain stops ruling the sea Great Britain itself stops. If all countries abolish battleships we will still have more cruisers and naval bases. If they abolish cruisers, we will still have our merchant marine, with several times as many ships as you have that can carry six inch guns.

"So you see it is going to be a long time before Britannia ceases to rule the waves.

"The British people know this and they are not worried, not even by Prime Minister MacDonald. They know that to whatever extent the navies are reduced taxes will be reduced, and no matter how much the navies are reduced, we British will still control the seas. What more could you ask? Now you understand why we are not so very much interested in this conference."

JAPANESE LEAD BY WIDE MARGIN IN SUBMARINES

Orientals Outstrip Both U. S. and Britain.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Japan now leads the world in the submarine class of ship. The latest tables of comparative naval statistics reveal that the power placed third in battleship strength at the Washington naval conference in 1922 has forged far ahead in submarine strength of the United States and Great Britain, powers which formerly held world leadership in the underseas type of combat vessel.

Japan, by building during the post-treaty years while this country was taking a naval holiday, has built up a submarine tonnage of 66,627 tons, compared to 59,738 for the United States, 47,421 for Great Britain, 31,213 for France, and 20,990 tons for Italy. Study of the characteristics of the Japanese submarines show that Japan's superiority is not confined to tonnage alone. In speed, caliber of guns, and numbers of up-to-date modern ships she excels all the other powers.

Subs Large and Speedy.

A glance at the recently published navy league tables showing ages, calibers of guns, speed and displacement of individual ships discloses that Japan's navy includes nineteen modern, effective submarines with a displacement of more than 1,000 tons, compared to thirteen for Great Britain, four each for the United States and Italy, and two for France. While the United States has but four submarines mounting guns larger than 5 inches in caliber, Japan has twenty of these vessels with 4.7 inch guns, France has ten with guns of 4.1 inch or larger, Italy has four, and Great Britain one.

In speed the fastest Japanese submarines can run away from the swiftest underwater craft of other powers. The United States has but three submarines with a maximum speed of above 14.6 knots. Of these the fastest makes 19.3 knots. Japan has fifteen submarines with a speed of 20 knots or more.

French Plan More.

Japan's superiority in the submarine field has been sharply challenged by France in recent months and if no new underseas ships are added to the Japan building program, the French navy will lead the five powers both in numbers of submarines and in submarine tonnage within the next few years. Study of the submarine building program arranged by the Washing treaty nations shows that the French naval program calls for the addition of fifty-eight submarines to the present French fleet.

7 Hours in Bed and Not 7 Minutes of Sleep!

The Toll Acidity Takes

You go to bed dog-tired, but the minute you hit the pillow all sleepiness vanishes. If you do sleep at all, it's only in snatches and you wake out of these "stupors" with a strange, startled feeling, sometimes in a cold sweat. Morning finds you a rag, gaunt and hollow-eyed and barely able to crawl out of bed.

Acidity is due to our unnatural eating habits, our excessive smoking and irregular hours. The excess acid upsets digestion and causes acid-indigestion with gas and heartburn. It causes putrefaction and fermentation in the gastro-intestinal canal which frequently results in ragged nerves, sleeplessness, logy days and general loss of strength and vitality.

A remarkable new corrective of acidity has been developed by a famous 100 year old pharmaceutical house in Germany. This new, improved magnesia comes in the form of small white tablets called Magnesia Oxoids which do not have to be chewed, but which may be swallowed whole. Magnesia Oxoids, upon contact with the acid in the stomach, generate nascent, or active, oxygen! Now, active oxygen, as any doctor will tell you, when generated within the digestive tract does just the things required for acidity. It stimulates the secretion of the alkaline mucus. It checks the putrefaction and fermentation in the gastro-intestinal canal. It exercises a stimulating effect upon the activities of the intestinal walls and aids the movement of the bowels.

All three effects are necessary to the true relief of acidity, and Magnesia Oxoids supply them in a perfectly natural manner.

5-Day Acidity Test

To ascertain just how "acid" you are, make this 5-day acidity test. Get a bottle of Magnesia Oxoids from Walgreen's Drug Stores and Economical Drug Stores or any other druggist on our money-back guarantee. Take two after each meal for five days. Mark the change in your physical condition—note how more sound and restful your sleep and how more cheerful and active your days. If you don't sleep better and have more "pep" and power, return the balance of the Magnesia Oxoids to the druggist and he will refund your money.

TAKE UP PROBLEM OF INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL PERMIT

Expect "Kick" in House Debate This Week.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Corn sugar, "white mule" whisky and industrial alcohol are expected to put a kick into congressional debates this week as the house of representatives tackles the first of the Wickersham enforcement bills—that transferring the prohibition unit from the treasury to the department of justice.

Chairman Bertrand H. Snell [Rep., N. Y.] of the rules committee said today he thought it likely that the transfer bill would be taken up in the house by Thursday. The house expenditures committee completed its revision of the bill yesterday and probably will formally report it to the floor tomorrow.

One feature of the bill proved to be an outstanding point of dispute in the committee and without doubt will be a storm center in the house: That is how to dispose of the industrial alcohol problem and its lusty first cousin, the corn sugar liquor problem.

Rampus in Committee.

As offered by the Wickersham commission the bill provided for leaving industrial alcohol permits in the treasury with the attorney general exercising a veto power, but such a rumpus was kicked up that it was amended to give the attorney general full authority over industrial alcohol regulations, the treasury handling routine work. This arrangement, too, met opposition and the committee yesterday restored the bill to its original form although there were several dissenters.

Prohibition agitators, among them Senator Borah [Rep., Idaho], have denounced the present industrial alcohol system as scandalous, declaring that leaks are flooding the country with the makings for illicit beverages.

On the contrary, Prohibition Commissioner James M. Doran contends that industrial alcohol is a diminishing evil. The really big and important menace now, according to Doran, is the flourishing corn liquor business. Doran recently produced figures showing that of the 3,864 stills confiscated in the northeast last year 3,430 were manufacturing alcohol from corn sugar.

Corn Sugar Prospering.

"The corn sugar illicit distilling is causing us grave concern, for there seems to be a constant growth in it with the highest type of plants being erected," Doran said. "The alcohol is just as good a grade as that manufactured legally and is shipped to the bootleggers in five and ten gallon cans."

Further evidence of the effect of prohibition upon the corn sugar industry is shown by department of agriculture statistics on production. In 1909 only 159 million pounds were produced. In 1923 that amount had jumped to 537 millions, in 1925 to 580 millions, in 1927 to 904 millions, and in 1928 to 968 millions.

One of the main reasons for this increase is said to be the fact that, whereas corn sugar formerly was produced in a semi-liquid state, it is now put up in crystallized form so that it can be put in bags and tins. When the liquid was fermented, it gave forth an offensive odor, easy to detect, but with the crystals the fermentation is simple and odorless.

ASSISTANT CASHIER KILLS HIMSELF AFTER TEXAS BANK CLOSES

Fort Worth, Tex., Feb. 2.—(AP)—L. B. Ward, assistant cashier of the Texas National bank of Fort Worth, which closed its doors Friday upon recommendation of the Forth Worth Clearing House association, shot and killed himself this afternoon.

Ward, who had set out for a walk, stepped inside the open doors of the police department garage across the street from the central police station in the city hall, placed a pistol to his temple, and fired one shot. The bullet went through his head.

He left a note saying loss of health and loss of his position drove him to the act.

Falls Asleep While Puffing Cigaret; Burns Are Fatal

Edgar Miller, 30 years old, 3509 Greenview avenue, a taxicab driver, died yesterday in the American hospital of burns which he received on Jan. 28 when he fell asleep while smoking a cigaret in bed at his home.

ROB CIGAR STORE MANAGER.

Three bandits, two of whom were Negroes, locked Martin Joyce, 2525 West 62d street, in the rear of a United Cigar store at 6259 South Western avenue, of which he is the manager, yesterday and took $50 from the cash register.

silk jacket suits—
so clever you'll wonder who designed them!

It might have been one of the "grand" couturiers of Paris, but instead, these suits were designed right here in our own country, by a very fashion-knowing little woman! For last week's Paris Openings cabled "jacket suits." These are Canton Crepe, 3-piece, in Black, Game Green, or Navy.

CHICAGO

WORLD CITY WEEK

February 3rd to 8th

A CITY built on a swamp—raised seven feet and filled out into the lake. A city destroyed by fire—rebuilt to gigantic proportions. Is there no end to the marvels of dauntless Chicagoans?

Looking toward the future, building, planning, seeking the salient points and overcoming insurmountable difficulties, Chicago's history has been throughout, one of intelligent progress.

It is a progress built on service, the only constructive force in civilization—a progress characterized by Chicago's motto "I Will." And through this consistent striving, there has come a strength rock-like in its durability, and far-reaching in its effect.

Located in the very heart of the country, with boundless natural resources at her back, Chicago draws as to a focal point, all of these resources, absorbing those things necessary to her development, distributing the remainder through her myriad lanes of rail and water transportation, reaching to all points of this country, indeed, to all parts of the world.

Her location, her dauntless spirit, her far-reaching commercial foresight, have all contributed to make her today an industrial, marketing and distributing center of international importance, and every day that importance is increasing.

We, as an integral part of Chicago life, as representative of its business, pledge her anew our faith. In so doing, we feel it fitting that there should be made known definitely here—how great a part Chicago plays in the life of this community and of the country.

Practically all the necessaries of life, and many of its luxuries, are Chicago-made products. They come to you through this Store.

NEW YORK SEES THE LIGHT.

The government of New York City has announced a desire to enter the lake level controversy and enter it on the side of Chicago. New York state is one of the six states which brought the suit against Chicago. The state is thus placed in the ridiculous position of having opposed the interest of the majority of its inhabitants and having threatened by its own act the well-being of the metropolis, without which New York would be just another of the forty-eight.

All that can be said in defense of successive administrations at Albany which have opposed Chicago is that leaders of opinion in New York City failed until recently to see that their interest was in any way involved on Chicago's side. Buffalo wanted New York in the litigation and New York City stupidly let Buffalo have her way. New York City was encouraged to do so because the diversion through the drainage canal promised to give Chicago cheap transportation to the gulf and therefore might cut into the export and import business of the port of New York.

At last New York has awakened to the fundamental issue in the controversy. The lake states have maintained, and still maintain, that water may not be diverted under any circumstances from one great watershed to another. If that doctrine is written into law by the Supreme court, New York City's growth is at an end. New York has already reached out to the Delaware watershed for its ever growing population. New Jersey has sued to enjoin the diversion and the decision in the lake levels case is going to be of utmost importance in the New Jersey case. Only the other day Attorney General Bettman of Ohio asserted that "congress has not the power to take water out of one watershed and put it in another." New York City finds herself in a position almost exactly like that of Los Angeles and other cities of southern California, which have had to reach behind the mountain ranges, into other watersheds, to find water for their increasing populations. Now, if congress may not divert water for purposes of interstate commerce, as desired by Chicago, it is difficult to see how diversion for another purpose, over which the jurisdiction of congress is much more doubtful, can be justified.

In its broadest aspect, the controversy bears on the right of men to change the face of nature to their own liking. The American people have been engaged in doing just that ever since the first Indian was pushed off his hunting ground and the first bridge was built. Man's conquest of nature is simply a series of interferences with the original scheme and America has led the world in devising them. A city is in itself an artificial thing which can support a growing population only through the help of public works reaching farther out from the city's center each year. The growth of cities, the most characteristic phenomenon of our era, may be halted, though, of course, it cannot be permanently stayed, by a decision of the court against Chicago. More than half the population of the United States today lives in cities and the movement is continuing. Chicago may be thought of as fighting for the right of men to mold nature to their desires, and it is not surprising that the nation's second city, in such a controversy, has at last the support of the nation's first city.

UNDER THE ARMY'S THUMB.

The war department has denied Chicago any relief from the bridge nuisance. Washington has decreed that Chicago bridges shall not be closed to accommodate rush hour land traffic for longer periods than now prevail. Moreover, the army has perpetuated the privilege of harbor tugs to open Chicago bridges even during closed hours. This is the answer to our moderate request for federal help in the face of vastly multiplied congestion in the streets and the progressively greater interference with our communications on the part of cheap river craft.

The city council's statement of grievance against the rivermen was impressive. The relief prayed was reasonable and considerate of the river interests in view of their contempt for our welfare. Consequently the decision against us shows the army playing favorites. The representation of a handful of towboat operators carries more weight than considerations of convenience of thousands of citizens. The government has sanctioned an intolerable injustice. Every person detained at the bridge head, during natural rush hours, for the passage of a tug or sandsucker has cause to feel a profound grievance against the war department. It will not be surprising if this resentment is not discriminating. The army engineers rebuked Chicago, but few Chicago citizens will make that distinction. The war department in all its services will be condemned here.

Also Chicago citizens may save some of their animosity for their delegation in congress. Representative Britten seems to have been the only member who made even a gesture toward protecting Chicago from the hostility of the war department. This is one of the occasions when our representatives could have been of tangible use to us. But they turned their constituents down. This will be something to answer for in the congressional campaigns.

VOLSTEADERS AND THE TRUTH ABOUT IT.

A writer in a dry church publication said that the wet press was representing the Keeley liquor cure at Dwight as thriving in giving the cure to prohibition drink sufferers and liquor addicts, but that this was only more of the intentional misstatement of facts regarding Volstead and its effect upon the country. The truth was, said the writer, that before prohibition the institute had branches in each state and in Canada. "Now the plant at Dwight, Ill., concentrates almost the entire business, and it is not surprising if it is a little crowded, especially as in 1920 it sold its massive central building, the hub of its half million dollar plant, and since then has been operating from a bungalow."

A Chicago business man wrote to the institute for the facts. Martin Nelson, its secretary, replied that last year the institute treated more patients than in any other year since 1907. In 1920 the number of branches had been reduced to fifteen and last year to ten, but that these ten had treated 16½ per cent more patients than were treated in 1920.

The habit and policy of the Volsteaders is to denounce the truth as false and to maintain untruths as facts. It is also their habit and policy to ascribe dishonorable motives to newspapers which publish honest information concerning the state of the country under prohibition.

The failure of Volstead is revealed on every hand. It is confessed in the acts of the government and in the debates in congress. It is made plain in the hysteria of the prohibitionists themselves in their demands for excessive punishments and their criticism of government procedure. They want more jails, more gunmen, more padlocks, and more trials without jury. They have been given free hand in the control of government and they threaten it because it can't make the thing work in spite of excesses in trying to enforce it.

If a public official says prohibition is working very well the fanatics say he is a liar. He is not only a liar but he is not trying to enforce the law and that's the trouble with Volstead and the country. If a newspaper prints facts which show just what a scandalous failure the Volstead law is the fanatics say the newspaper is a liar. Prohibition is working like a dream of perfect reform. It has met all the expectations of its most hopeful friends. There is no such thing as alcoholism in the United States. No one is taking the drink cure. No one is drinking intoxicating beverages. The jails are empty. The federal courts haven't anything to do. The judges spend their time reading on the bench, possibly wishing that there were a malefactor or two left somewhere in the United States to liven things up a bit. The penitentiaries have been taken over for warehousing.

If what the Volsteaders say about the independent newspapers is true then the fanatics are certainly mean to the government in Washington. It is distracted trying to think of some new way to give them what they want and satisfy them.

TELL IT TO THE JUDGE.

The Municipal court has given force to the smoke abatement campaign by fining a number of violators of the smoke ordinance. More cases are pending, and there is promise of more fines. We are sure that the chief smoke inspector, Mr. Frank W. Chambers, has already pressed the advantage which the court has offered. His operations against the smoke nuisance have been creditable and he cannot fail to multiply his warnings to offenders now that the warnings carry a real threat of punishment.

The smoke department and the smoke ordinance have been well advertised for several years. Stokers and owners of buildings are thoroughly advised of the crusade. They have had plenty of time to change firing methods and equipment so as not to contaminate the atmosphere. The period of education has ended. It is time to tell it to the judge. Smoke pollution is uncivilized, unhealthful, and wasteful to the city and to the individual operator of the furnace. More fines and maximum fines are indicated. Assured of the coöperation of the courts, Mr. Chambers should keep the dockets loaded.

THE GENTLE BOLSHEVIK.

Adherents of the communist party in New York held a parade at the funeral of one of their fellow communists killed by the police in a strike. Speakers denounced this capitalist crime and called upon the proletariate to make away with capitalist oppression. The parade proceeded with banners and a police escort and the speakers orated without interference. A sensible arrangement, which ought to be imitated by all police authorities in such cases. One thing that can be left to the American sense of humor to dispose of, we are confident, is communism and its protests against capitalist oppression. As coadjutors of a system that has murdered more men and women than any government in modern times and maintains by armed force and ruthless terrorism the most autocratic government in the world, except perhaps the Fascist, the American communists and their indignation over the shooting of one individual belong in a comic strip. They are funnier than Moon Mullins.

Editorial of the Day

TESTING THE BUSINESS TREND.

[Columbus (O.) Evening Dispatch.]

Absolute certainty as to future business development is never possible, nor is it desirable that human nature should be so constituted that it could be thus accurately predicted. It would be a wholly mechanical human nature whose actions could be so correctly foreseen, and certainty of the future would be an unsatisfactory substitute for human freedom.

Still, human freedom likes to try its hand at the game of business forecasting, and is continually seeking for some index to what may reasonably be expected. One of Postmaster General Brown's assistants, in an interview in Dayton the other day, found such an index in postal receipts. The new year is opening with a record of material gains in postal income, and these gains he interprets as "especially significant, and indicative that better business conditions throughout the country can be expected during the current year."

The accompanying statement that "the condition of the postal business is uniformly recognized as an unfailing barometer of the state of commerce and trade" will seem to some to be putting it a little strong, where only a comparatively short period of time is taken into the account; but it is reassuring to know that, at least thus far into the new year, the postal barometer is moving in the right direction.

PARROT FEVER.

THE country is stirred up just now over an infectious disease of parrots which is capable of being spread to parrot handlers and, by them, to others. The authorities are lending an ear to the halfway panic not because of the novelty of the disease, nor because it occasions many deaths or much illness, but because it catches the public mind and gives them an opportunity to diffuse information.

In Hull's recently issued book, "Diseases Transmitted from Animals to Man," we read that parrot fever is really a hoary-headed disease. Reports of human epidemics of it have been appearing for more than fifty years. In 1892 an epidemic in Paris affected forty-nine people and caused sixteen deaths. It is caused by a bacillus which the bacteriologists say belongs to the salmonella group, is one of the paratyphoid organisms, and is something like a second cousin to the typhoid bacillus. In parrots it causes an acute fever with diarrhea and emaciation. A sick bird will infect other birds through infected cages, feces, soiled food, and, perhaps, even feathers. As a rule the affected parrots die in a few days. Humans may catch it from infected parrots or from sick people who have been infected by a parrot. While a sick parrot is required to start the ball rolling, once it gets going it can be spread without the agency of parrots.

While psittacosis, or parrot fever, affects the intestines, causing diarrhea in birds, among human beings it is a lung disorder. It takes the form of a contagious pneumonia, running a course different from that of typical pneumonia. The death rate among infected human beings is high. There is no specific treatment for the disease. Good care and meeting symptoms as they come is about all we can do.

By way of prevention one should go slow about acquiring a parrot. If the urge to buy is irresistible, buy nothing but a healthy looking and acting bird, guaranteed by the dealer to be healthy. Since the disease is acute and has a short incubation period he will be sick within a few days after purchase if he is to be sick at all. He should be kept isolated for two to four weeks. During this time other birds should be kept away from him. Human beings should also avoid close contact with him. His cage must be kept scrupulously clean. If he becomes sick precautions should be increased and the health department should be notified.

If a person who has been exposed to a sick parrot develops fever and is suspected of having pneumonia he should be isolated and the health department should be notified.

TREATING OF COLD SORES.

Miss L. M. N. writes: I am troubled with cold sores raising up in small blisters and then breaking. I now have three of these and would like to ask:

1. What is the cause?
2. Is there any preventive?
3. What will dry them up?

REPLY.

1. Cold sores are caused by infections, either with a virus or with a microbe.
2. Avoiding infections, overcoming constipation, and care in diet are of service.
3. It is customary to apply spirits of camphor and to follow with a protective salve.

SCARLET FEVER MENACE.

A. B. writes: Can scarlet fever be diagnosed after five or six days no matter how mild it is?

REPLY.

There are some cases of scarlet fever that cannot be diagnosed. In some cases the diagnosis is little more than a guess. Unfortunately the laboratory test for scarlet fever is not on a satisfactory basis.

INVESTIGATE TWO CAUSES.

B. F. writes: I am 18 years old and I have puffs under my eyes. What do they come from and how can I get rid of them? Do they go away of themselves?

REPLY.

Puffs under the eyes may be due to heart or kidney trouble. These as the possible causes should be investigated.

If neither is present, massage your face each morning with ice.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

Letters to this department must be signed with names and addresses of writers.

IS A CITIZEN.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—[Friend of the People.]—A minor, age fourteen, arrived in the United States in the summer of 1921. His father acquired his citizenship papers some years before his son's arrival. The son is now a university student. Is it necessary for him to apply for citizenship papers under the circumstances?

J. W.

Under the facts stated, the person referred to is a citizen through his father's naturalization. If he desires a certificate of citizenship he should make application therefor to this office [776 Federal building].

FRED J. SCHLOTFELDT,
District Director of Naturalization.

CHARGED EXORBITANT INTEREST.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—About six months ago I borrowed $10.00 from a certain firm on wage assignment and paid them one dollar a week interest. Since I stopped payment they write they will collect. 1. Can they make me pay them the principal? 2. Is this a legal rate of interest? 3. What is the legal rate in Illinois?

J. W. H.

1. Yes, but you could credit against principal the payments that you had made on account of interest.
2. No.
3. The interest rate allowed by statute in case of unreasonable and vexatious delay is 5% per annum. The maximum that can be stipulated for by contract is 7% per annum in ordinary cases. Pawnbrokers can charge 3% per month. Corporations organized under the small loans act can charge 3½% per month.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

DEPENDS ON NATURE OF JUDGMENTS.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Can a person be imprisoned for inability to pay judgments for personal injury, property damage, etc., sustained in automobile accidents? 2. If proof is given in bankruptcy proceedings that person has no assets, can these judgments be set aside?

A. J.

1. No, if it is merely a negligence case. Yes, if it involves a willful or reckless injury. 2. Depends on the nature of the judgments. See above.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

HOLD THE FORT—

for Fort is coming. Yessir, Franklin W. Fort, to be exact. He's a dry and he expects to be the next governor of wet, wringing wet New Jersey, so what does he do? Why, he gets right up in congress and he says be a good sport, says Fort, be a good sport and brew your own! And some of the newspapers (the old meanies) were so delighted about it that they had a headline over his speech saying Fort was speaking for his intimate friend, Mr. Hoover. However, Mr. Hoover replied very decidedly that Hold the Fort was speaking only for Hold the Fort and not for Miles Standish. And that was that.

Well, anyhow, it's a bright rift of sunshine in an overcast and dull gray sky. Hold the Fort tells us that the drinking of intoxicants is not morally wrong; that the selling of intoxicants is all anybody objects to; and that's something new under the sun, but maybe he knows what he's talking about.

Even if he does, he probably won't be unanimously elected governor of wet New Jersey. People who've got cellars may vote for Hold the Fort, but lots of people haven't got cellars. What are they going to do—make it in the parlor? Have we got to throw out the radio and the grand piano to find room for tubs of mash and kegs of wine? It takes a keg of wine a long while to change from grapejuice to the nice snappy stuff you pour into a glass and hoist up in one hand when you say, "Well, here's mud in your eye!"

Then, again, if we turn the dear old home into a brewery, or a winery, or a distillery, how do we know that the enforcement cops will let us alone? Hold the Fort says they will, but how do we know? It reminds us of the man who went to call on a friend, but who turned and fled in wild alarm at the sight of the friend's dog. "Hey," said the friend, appearing at the door, "that dog won't hurt you?" "Sure," said the visitor, as he continued to climb a tree. "I know it. You know it. But the dog, maybe he don't know it." And that's us, Mr. Hold the Fort. That's the way we feel.

DESERT KISS.

We who have built a desert fire
When evening-cool returned its old caress,
Remember, strangely, how an old desire
Flamed against the mesa loneliness.

We who have watched a desert moon
Arching above the far-flung cacti-land,
Recall the drowsy song, the shadow croon
That ranged so far across the desert sand.

We who have grown away from love,
As desert bloom will grow away from rain,
Must ever go on dreaming, thinking of
A desert kiss that brought us only pain.

COLORADO PETE.

"MR. LEIBER will strengthen his company next year," said Rufus C. Dawes, treasurer of the Chicago Civic Shakespeare society, according to the esteemed Herez, "by the addition of one or two artists." We ask you, Rufus, do you think that's nice?

GROUNDHOG DAY yesterday, but we've simply stopped going out to the lonely countryside and sitting for hours to see whether the groundhog comes up and looks around for his shadow. Why must we depend on an illiterate, simple minded groundhog for good weather in February when the old thing could be readily fixed by a constitutional amendment? Write to your congressman today!

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW, breaking a long silence of fifteen or twenty minutes, says that theaters should be built that would rival St. Paul's and Westminster cathedrals. Oh, George, if you would renounce your prejudice against coming to America and tour around over here a bit you wouldn't make ridiculous statements like that. We've got movie theater cathedrals that make St. Paul's and Westminster look like filling stations.

MALCONTENT.

There are memories
And trying to forget—
Buds that the dying trees
Regret.

I have no sighs
For love wasted,
Only the promise in dark eyes
Untasted.

Lovers that part
Or go gravely to church,
Why is it in my heart
To search

Something so fair
Life goes wailing untuned.
Was yearning put there
Merely to wound?

JUDY SHEA.

LAGNIAPPE.

AND THEY CALLED Gov. Emmerson in to help straighten out Chicago's financial troubles. "Well," said the governor, "you'd better hurry up and pay what you owe to the state of Illinois or you'll get some real trouble." Oh, my goodness, governor, what a comfort you turned out to be.

WE WERE SIMPLY enthralled by the beauty of the young person who impersonates Chicago in the prologue to the Chicago Civic Opera company's talkie, "Behind the Footlights." We were, however, slightly distressed to find in another column that Chicago owes its creditors over fourteen million bucks and that those we owe say the debt is long overdue and are crying to high heaven for their money. Yet on the gleaming corselet of Chicago are emblazoned in big letters our glorious slogan, "I WILL." Possibly it would make our creditors feel better as they view the performance if the slogan were slightly changed by the addition of the word PAY.

POLITE BANDITS who held up a Chicago laundry office brought in sandwiches and coffee for the laundry employés (who were necessarily detained from their suppers by the incident), and then offered them a drink of whisky all around, and when saying good-by gave them a ten dollar bill for cigarettes and chewing gum all around. In spite of sneering comments from the outside world, it is really getting to be quite a pleasure to be robbed in Chicago.

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 3, 1865.

WASHINGTON.—President Lincoln left Washington by special train for Annapolis to join Secretary Seward at Fortress Monroe to hold an interview with a rebel deputation consisting of Messrs. A. H. Stevens, R. M. T. Hunter, and John A. Campbell. It is understood the rebel peace commissioners are now at Fortress Monroe. The Republican this afternoon says that "the indications are that the rebel commissioners are robed with greater power by Jeff Davis than is stated by the Richmond press."

WASHINGTON.—The bill for a ship canal from Lake Michigan to the Mississippi, after a protracted struggle, was passed by ten majority. The bill was first introduced four years ago by Mr. Armold of Illinois and has been pressed vigorously at every session since then.

WASHINGTON.—The pension committee of the house reported a bill giving a gratuity of $300 a year to the five survivors of the revolutionary pensioners: They are Samuel Cook, 98 years old, Clarendon, O.; Samuel Downey, 98, Edenburg, N. Y.; William Hutchins, 100, Penobscot, Me.; James Barhorn, 100, of Missouri; and Alexander Maroney, 94, Yates, N. Y.

NEW YORK. — A special to the World says it is rumored that President Lincoln has gone to confer with Jeff Davis in person.

CHICAGO.—Among states to ratify the amendment to the national constitution forever abolishing slavery yesterday were Michigan, Rhode Island, and New York.

CHICAGO.—William C. Lindsay and Miss Annie M. Kearney, both of Chicago, were married in Belvidere, Ill., on Feb. 1 by the Rev. Mr. Ellis V. Reifsnider.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 3, 1900.

FRANKFORT, Ky.—William Goebel, Democrat, for the second time was sworn in as governor of Kentucky, after the Democratic members of the legislature met in a hotel and by formal vote declared Goebel elected. Steps were taken for an immediate organization of a Goebel state militia and tomorrow injunctions will be issued against Gov. William S. Taylor and his adjutant general, Daniel Collier. The sheriff, a rabid Goebel man, will be instructed to deputize every man in Kentucky, if need be, to enforce the writs. Meanwhile Gov. Taylor is entrenched in the statehouse and, pounding a table with his fists, declares he is there to stay. The courts are Democratic. At Washington President McKinley refused Taylor's request to interfere.

CHICAGO.—Fire in the spice and coffee department of Sprague, Warner & Co., Michigan avenue and Randolph street, did damage estimated at $150,000. Albert Kruger, an employé, is missing and is believed to have burned to death.

CHICAGO.—Many of the stables at the Lakeside race track at Roby, Ind., just across the state line, were burned, and three racehorses belonging to Thomas Costello, former newspaper man, perished.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 3, 1920.

LONDON.—Confirmation was received that the Polish government, in conjunction with the allies, is considering the offer of peace made by soviet Russia last week. The offer invited a friendly settlement of all disputes and outstanding questions between Poland and soviet Russia.

COPENHAGEN.—M. Litvinoff, the bolshevik representative here, said the soviet government was ready to demobilize immediately peace was signed with the warring states and guarantees were given that Russia would not be exposed to sudden attack and that the allies would refrain from all intervention.

CHICAGO.—Ald. Michael Kenna was besieged with telephone calls from persons asking for famous "tub" beer glasses as souvenirs of his Workingmen's Exchange saloon, which is being closed on account of the enforcement of the national prohibition law. The alderman announced that he would present a "tub" each to the Chicago Historical society and the Field museum as relics of the wassail age.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

NEW RULES FOR FARMERS.

Hinsdale, Ill., Jan. 30.—Mr. Legge, head of the farm board, says to the farmers: "Limitation of the production of all farm products is the goal to success." And THE TRIBUNE adds: "The whole Hoover farm relief program is hanging in the balance." And later in Mr. Legge's statement we read that unless adverse conditions develop between now and harvest time another large crop of winter wheat will be produced."

Are we to pray for adverse conditions? Or does failure produce success? My inability to understand this logic and my interest in the farm question cause me to ask, "What is of the greater importance, the welfare and success of the farmer or failure or success of the Hoover farm relief program?"

Does not Farmer John's ability to produce a little more than Farmer Joe give him his better standing and greater self respect? Or is his ability and resourcefulness in the future to be rewarded with failure?

In countries where coöperatives for years have proven successful; in fact, where they are the foundation for the very existence of the farmers, the slogan is and has been, "Produce!"—"Produce still more!" And the coöperatives' strength is their ability to produce.

F. B. NIELSEN.

MASS PRODUCTION IN AGRICULTURE.

Mazon, Ill., Jan. 30.—May I congratulate both Scrutator and THE TRIBUNE on the article "Finds Drawback to Mass Production in Agriculture"?

This is the first time that this phase of mass production in agriculture has ever been touched upon, and it is the most vital side of the entire question.

When mass production in agriculture is carried beyond the reach of the person most interested; when the real love of the game and the gratification in achievement are crushed out of it by overmechanization, then that mistaken idea will go the route of all topheavy institutions, and our American farm home, one of the world's greatest gardens of clean influence and good citizenship, will be safe.

S. FRED CUMMINGS.

OVERPRODUCTION AND WEATHER.

Shelbyville, Ill., Jan. 28.—I wonder if Mr. Legge and Mr. Hyde, who are calling upon the farmers to curtail production, take into consideration the hazardous weather conditions we have contended with in the last five years, the floods and rains that have kept us out of the fields. In the spring of 1929, owing to heavy rains, we were unable to get into the fields, and last fall we weren't able to get the crops out or thrashed owing to heavy rains, snow, floods, and the like. It has been terrible for the farmer, and perhaps something Mr. Legge and Mr. Hyde don't think of.

If we curtail our production and bad weather conditions continue we won't have anything. I note the market prices never are affected by these causes, but let something happen in foreign countries and prices go down like a wrecked airplane.

E. R. GOLDSTEIN.

RECEIVERSHIP ACT.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Instead of employing makeshifts in this financial emergency we should ask the governor to call a special session of the legislature to enact a general law for putting in receivership municipal corporations which have become insolvent or which are mismanaged. That would oust the wreckers and put strong business men on duty. Credit would immediately rise. Such an act would take care of the city, the board of education, and Cook county. The receivership should last until solvency has been accomplished and thereafter until new officers have been chosen at a special election to be called by the governor or as the act may provide, the ousted officers to be ineligible.

Such an act hanging over municipal governments in Illinois would by its mere existence exert an influence for better administration.

Here is where real constructive work for 1933 should start.

OPERA HOUSE SQUAD.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—In response to an article appearing in your column entitled "Police on Detail" by Mr. A. C. Ross it is desired to state that not ten but only six policemen are detailed for traffic duty about the Civic Opera building, and then only before and after show time. During show time they are assigned to various intersections to regulate traffic. These officers do not call and load taxicabs, as this work is done by the regular uniformed doormen employed for such work—not only at the Opera house but at other theaters as well.

Traffic details are also required in the Rialto on Randolph street, where a great many theaters are located.

This service is necessary in order to properly facilitate the movement of the tremendous amount of traffic at these places.

W. F. RUSSELL,
Commissioner.

HEALTH OFFICERS IN SCHOOLS.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—We notice in the Voice of the People a communication headed "Specialists" and signed "A Teacher," criticizing the services rendered by the department of health in the schools.

If the writer will be good enough to send the details of her complaint to this department, room 710 city hall, we shall be only too glad to investigate and take steps to correct failures, if any, of our employés.

The writer of the letter has drawn conclusions as to the value of the services of the department of health in schools without having complete knowledge of the results obtained. Conclusions arrived at without complete information of the subject discussed are very likely to be erroneous.

The board of education and the department of health are coöperating in an effort to improve the conditions of the children in our Chicago schools. Full coöperation of the teachers is desired and their constructive criticism is always welcome.

ARNOLD H. KEGEL,
Commissioner of Health.

PROSPERITY AND EXPORTS.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—On a cartoon, "Playing for the Key," tries to show that control of the sea brings foreign trade, which in turn leads to "steady employment and high wages for millions of workmen."

Very good, except that on the same page you have an editorial "London and Chicago," showing the misery and poverty of Englishmen. Can you reconcile these two? England has always controlled the seas, yet her lower classes are poverty stricken and living on government doles.

WE WANT YANKEE BLUEJACKETS TO RULE US--SAMOA

Natives Urge U. S. to Keep Navy on Job.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PAGO-PAGO, American Samoa, Feb. 2.—The one interest of the native Samoan in Tutuila and the smaller islands of the American group these days is the coming of a congressional committee, possibly in June, to devise a form of government for the islands.

If left to the Samoan choice the navy will be continued; if left to the navy the control will pass to a joint Samoan and American civilian rule—a sort of territorial government—until the native is ready to take over the tropical islands himself.

A population of about 8,000 is affected. There are many problems to be solved, chiefly those of finances. The total revenues from imports are about $200,000 annually, while exports aggregate $160,000. There are no industries. The chief export is copra. There is a scarcity of level surface and landslides are frequent.

Seven on Committee.

The committee to draft and report to congress a form of government will consist of seven persons, two senators and two representatives from congress, two native leaders, and a seventh member, representing the Mau, or chiefly the half castes.

As far as the Samoans are concerned, they are willing to accept any recommendations made by the four members of congress, who will have the controlling vote. The two Samoan members will be Mauga, chief of the Mat-Tais (leaders of family or village groups), and Tufele, another leading Mat-Tai. The seventh member is Magalei, a chief of the Mau. Until this committee assembles no program will be outlined.

The problem of raising, among the Samoans, the money to carry on the government is a more serious one than the natives appreciate. They are willing to pay their taxes and their Mat-Tais are willing to collect, but none ever has considered how the tiny commerce and industry will meet governmental expense and expand roads and schools.

Bluejackets Rule Island.

At the present the navy rules, and the naval officers on the station occupy civil positions as well as performing their naval duties, and the former consume most of their time.

Each village is under a native chief. County chiefs are appointed by the naval governor and these, in turn, recommend the appointment of the district chiefs.

Except for James W. Foxall of Westchester, Pa., legal representative, who is secretary of native affairs as well as judge and sheriff, the government is entirely in the hands of the navy, including native police, in the naval harbor itself, known as Samoan marines and termed the Fita. They are under the training of a United States marine sergeant and their excellent band is under a chief petty officer.

The public health officer is the senior naval surgeon; the treasurer is the naval finance officer. The superintendent of public works and the auditor are naval officers and the naval chaplain is the superintendent of education, while another officer is at the head of the customs. All draw their pay only from the navy. Civilian rule will add a considerable sum to the insular budget.

Poll Tax Is "Pole Tax."

In order to meet other expenses, there is collected annually from each male native standing more than 5 feet 1 inch tall a poll tax of $7.50 annually. It is indeed a "pole tax," for any one who can pass under a pole set 5 feet 1 inch from the ground is tax free, since Samoans keep no record of ages. In addition, there is collected on the same basis a school tax of $4 annually, making the annual individual tax $11.50. An ad valorem tax of 15 per cent is collected on all imports, including those from the United States, and these are the chief imports. There is no export tax.

Revenue is used for construction and maintenance of highways, health and sanitation, including the native hospital and training school for native nurses, but excluding the salaries of the naval physicians and nurses. The hospital is separate from the naval dispensary. Customs revenues also go for construction and maintenance of schools, as well as salaries of teachers, most of whom are now natives, although there are still some American principals. The native tax chiefly goes to pay the native district and local officials.

It seems certain that whatever form of government may be devised it will be necessary for the bluejackets to remain on the job for an indefinite period. The naval station here will be continued, though with oil as the chief fuel its strategic value has passed, except as a landing place for seaplanes, and there is none here.

The beggar, the sneak thief, the overlord, the oppressor do not exist.

PROF. GROUNDHOG IN SNOWSTORM IS STILL A PROPHET

A snowstorm greeted the groundhog when he made his first tentative appearance yesterday morning and if there is any basis in fact for the popular belief in his legendary ability to make meteorological forecasts, spring is only a short distance away. According to the legend, the groundhog returns to his lair if he sees his shadow on Feb. 2 and spends another six weeks in hibernation. Tradition also has it that the groundhog is courageous enough to brave a blizzard despite his timidity at his own shadow. After the groundhog had made his appearance the snow changed to rain.

SIMMONS, FOE OF SMITH, FACES FIGHT OF HIS LIFE

No. Carolina Senatorial Primary in June.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

(Picture on back page.)

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Both of the southern senators who bolted the Democratic ticket in 1928 are facing the fight of their lives for re-election.

Senator Furnifold M. Simmons [Dem., N. C.], who recently celebrated his 76th birthday and since the death of Senator Francis E. Warren [Rep., Wyo.] has become the oldest member of the senate in point of continuous service, is in serious danger of defeat in the North Carolina primaries on June 7.

Senator J. Thomas Heflin [Dem., Ala.], deprived of the right to have his name printed on the ballots in the Alabama primary on Aug. 12, is facing a handicap which many believe he cannot overcome. He will endeavor to have his name written in upon the ballot. The senator already has announced he will run in the general election as an independent, but politicians believe he is doomed unless he can win the Democratic nomination.

Simmons May Survive.

Senator Simmons is regarded as in a somewhat more favorable position than Senator Heflin. His friends think he will survive the primary battle, but they admit that the outcome of the election is doubtful. The opposing primary candidate is Josiah William Bailey, a Raleigh attorney, who has been prominent in politics for 25 years and was an unsuccessful candidate for the nomination of governor in 1924. In former years Mr. Bailey was a cog in the Simmons machine.

Taking courage from the fate of the Democratic bolters in Virginia, the enemies of Senators Simmons and Heflin began a determined effort to punish them for their desertion of the party.

The Simmons influence was sufficient to carry North Carolina for Hoover. Senator Heflin helped to bring the Republicans within 7,000 votes of carrying Alabama.

Daniels Remains Neutral.

For almost 29 years Simmons has been a senator and the recognized boss of his party in North Carolina. It has been his habit to designate the candidates he favors and his power usually has been sufficient to control. In 1928 he made it known in a formal statement that he could not support Smith. This action, according to his enemies, meant a relinquishment of leadership of his party. Now they are clamoring for a new leader.

That Senator Simmons is in real danger is indicated by the unwillingness of some of the prominent Democrats of his state to take sides in the primary. Gov. O. M. Gardner, who was elected at the time of the 1928 presidential election, is keeping hands off. Former Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels also is remaining neutral. Former Gov. Angus W. McLean, against whom Bailey ran in 1924, has come out for Simmons.

DEMAND EXEMPTIONS TO JURY SERVICE BE ABOLISHED IN N. Y.

New York, Feb. 2.—[Special.]—The state crime commission today recommended in a statement that all exemptions from jury service be abolished and that the verdict of ten jurors be made the verdict of the entire jury in all civil cases and in all criminal cases except when the crime charged may be punishable by death.

Bills and a resolution for this purpose will be introduced into the legislature tomorrow night by Senator Caleb R. Baumes and Assemblyman Bert Esmond.

BETTER GUARDS NEEDED, PRISON INQUIRERS FIND

Lowden Submits Report; Low Wages Revealed.

New York, Feb. 2.—(AP)—An urgent need of improvement in the personnel of prisons and jails of the country is stressed in a report to the national crime commission by the subcommittee on pardons, parole, probation, penal laws, and institutional correction, made public today by the chairman, Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois.

The report carries a foreword by Mr. Lowden in which he says that "the solution of the crime problem depends upon many factors, not the least of which, we believe, is the problem of personnel."

Low Salaries Disclosed.

With few exceptions, the salaries paid wardens and prison guards are too low to attract capable men, the report states, calling attention to the $600 a year salary paid prison guards in New Mexico, with an additional $10 monthly allowance for food; the New Hampshire guards' pay of $780 a year, with no board or room provided; Rhode Island's $900 to $1,140, with no quarters or maintenance, and Wyoming's $840 to $1,080, with quarters and maintenance provided.

"South Dakota pays the warden of her state prison $2,000, with quarters and maintenance provided," the report says, "and Idaho state prison pays its warden $1,800 a year. On the other hand, the eastern penitentiary of Pennsylvania pays the warden $12,000, though quarters and maintenance are not provided."

Work of Politicians Seen.

Low salaries attract only men of low caliber, the committee says, adding that the guards are ill chosen and inadequately trained, as the majority "have been given their positions in return for some political service."

The committee finds it "far from encouraging" that only 10 states have civil service boards with varying degrees of jurisdiction over prison officials.

A civil service commission, the committee says, should be constituted as a cabinet department rather than "as a check upon the appointing power of the chief executive."

The committee recommends that small loan bureaus be established to allow the payment of fines in installments, thus "relieving the unjust burden on the poor and also relieving the local authorities from supporting hordes of idle people in the jails who cannot pay their fines in a lump sum."

GAS KILLS THREE WHEN THAW BREAKS MAIN; TEN OTHERS OVERCOME

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Three persons were killed and ten overcome here today by gas fumes escaping from a four inch gas main which was broken by frost leaving the ground. The dead were all members of one family.

The dead are Henry Witzler, 69, his wife, Mary Witzler, 69, and their son, Patrick Witzler. Their bodies were discovered by firemen.

Six of those overcome lived in adjoining houses in the northwestern part of the city and four were firemen who responded to calls for help with resuscitation apparatus.

Presence of the gas was detected by Miss Lauretta King, who was awakened by the coughing of her four year old stepbrother, Earl Bayne. She found her mother and stepfather overcome and notified the police.

Fire department ambulances were rushed to the scene and in an adjoining house Mrs. Eva Siske and her daughter, Eva, were found overcome. The ten who suffered from the effects of the gas were taken to hospitals and all but four were able to return to their homes later in the day.

LEEDS DIVORCE REFEREE CAN'T RECALL GROUNDS

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Percy Stoddart, who was referee in the action which resulted in the granting of an interlocutory decree of divorce yesterday to Princess Xenia of Russia from William B. Leeds Jr., today told interviewers he did not remember the grounds on which the divorce was sought.

Mr. Stoddart said he was appointed referee in the action early in January or late in December by Supreme Court Justice Selah B. Strong. He said that the hearings were held in his office in Mineola, and his law partner, Henry Uterhart, appeared as counsel for Princess Xenia.

The attorney said he could not remember how many hearings were held or whether Mr. Leeds did or did not appear. He said Mrs. Leeds appeared in person to testify, but none of the testimony at the hearings remained in his memory.

COP SHOOTS UP MOONSHINE SHOP; PATRON WOUNDED

At 8 o'clock roll call in Hudson avenue police station yesterday morning Patrolman William Sachweh was sober and seemingly fit for duty.

At 9:30 he staggered into a speakeasy at 1608 Clybourn avenue, brandishing his pistol and shouting for booze. As the bartender poured him a drink the policeman began shooting, one bullet shattering the mirror behind the bar and two striking a patron, John Schimber, 35 years old.

The policeman emptied his gun and was disarmed. Schimber, who lives at 35 16th street, North Chicago, was taken to the Alexian Brothers hospital, where surgeons found one bullet lodged against his spine and a second in his neck. His condition was pronounced serious.

Six hours later Patrolman Sachweh, regaining sobriety in a cell at Hudson avenue station, told his commander, Capt. James Condon, that he remembered having had three drinks of whisky in restaurants on his beat before entering the speakeasy. About the shooting he professed to remember nothing.

WHY BE AFRAID TO PAY A FAIR PROFIT?

American prosperity is built on the foundation of fair profit. The reprint appearing in this announcement, maintaining that unwarranted price-cutting is the bane of American industry, is, we believe, a true diagnosis of the difficulty.

Unwarranted price-cutting makes the realization of a fair profit on any commodity impossible. It immediately weakens the purchasing power of the Nation.

Fair profit is essential to American industry, as essential as blood is to the life of the human body. If you don't believe it, open your veins and where will you end! On a marble slab. By the same token, when you unwarrantedly open the fair profit veins of industry, where will it land? In that congested financial grave-yard, the bankruptcy court.

MOSINEE is fighting for fair profit in the Paper Industry. We concede to every man and corporation the right to expect and receive profit.

We are irrevocably opposed to unwarranted price-cutting.

WHY BE AFRAID TO PAY A FAIR PROFIT?

Price-Cutting Held Harmful to Ultimate Consumer

BY W. S. COUSINS,
Financial Editor, International News Service.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Maintenance of prices on the principal commodities and manufactured goods is essential to a broad recovery in American industry this year.

This fact has been brought home to American investors and business heads in recent statements and financial reports of leading corporations, many of which were unable to maintain the balance between their gross business and the margin of profit on individual sales in the last half of 1929.

PRICE WARS HURT.

But selling commodities under production costs eventually reacts to the disadvantage, not only of the producers of goods, but also of the great army of consumers, who must pay the price later on, either in higher markets or in inferior goods.

REDUCE COPPER OUTPUT.

Realizing that a cut in copper prices at this time would menace the whole structure of red metal prices, the important producers of the metal cut production about 30 per cent, and thus took the strain from the home and foreign markets.

It is not possible for all industries to carry out a program of this kind, but industrial heads will fail if they are unable to maintain a proper balance between supply and demand.

When the price cuts are the result of such factors as increasing efficiency and lower production costs, the results are beneficial all around.

When they represent ruinous and cut-throat competition, resulting ultimately in selling goods below actual cost, somebody pays the bill and in the long run it will be Mr. Ultimate Consumer.

THOUSANDS JAM MEXICO CITY FOR HUGE INAUGURAL

Rubio Takes Presidency on Wednesday.

BY JOHN CORNYN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 2.—Hotels here are filled and several thousand visitors are on their way to witness the inauguration of Pasqual Ortiz Rubio on Wednesday.

Two thousand visitors have made reservations at hotels, and those arriving without reservations will be put up at boarding houses and private families. Many will remain in the Pullmans of the numerous excursion trains from the United States. The Mexican capital has not seen so many visitors and tourists since 1910.

"Every state in the United States and province in Canada is represented by inauguration visitors here or on the way," said a railway excursion manager.

Healthy Interest Exhibited.

"Among all there is a notable interest and curiosity to see and participate in the festivities of inauguration week, and the inaugural ceremonies," he said. "It is a healthy interest, inspired by the growing interest in Mexico, as a result of the work of conciliation in sister republics, begun and carried on by Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow. Within the last five months, more than 3,000 American tourists visited Mexico, counting those on their way to see President Emilio Portes Gil peacefully turn over the first office of the land to his successor, Ortiz Rubio.

"This is partly due to the advertising given Mexico by the president-elect's visit to the United States and reception at the White House, but only partly, for peace and the spanning of Mexico with air lines have turned the eyes of Americans southward across the Rio Grande."

Huge Entertainment Program.

Theaters, moving picture shows, banquets, receptions, guide conducted parties on visits to museums, places of historic interest, ancient cities like Teotehuacan, the ruined capital of the Toltec empire, lectures and historical exhibitions are but a part of the program for the entertainment of visitors to Mexico City.

All 28 governors of Mexican states will be here for the inaugural ceremonies Wednesday. Among prominent Americans here is Gov. R. C. Dillon of New Mexico, accompanied by his family on a special train loaded with Americans. Others include a chamber of commerce party from San Diego, Cal., another by the chamber of commerce of San Antonio, Tex.; excursions from Los Angeles and San Francisco. Five other excursion parties from Chicago, the Mississippi valley, and eastern United States are here or on their way. Numerous parties are arriving in airplanes daily.

Every country represented diplomatically in Mexico has appointed special representatives for the inauguration.

On the day preceding the inauguration all American visitors will be greeted by Dr. Manuel Puig y Casauranc, governor of the federal district. Sixty thousand are expected to view the inauguration.

FIRE DESTROYS BUSINESS BUILDING.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Damage estimated at $100,000 was done by a fire which tonight destroyed a business building occupied by three retail stores here.

VOTE ON AUTO TARIFF AS SENATORS VEXES ENVOYS, WALSH SAYS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—(AP)—A statement that eighteen automobile manufacturers of Detroit had asked President Hoover to protest to France and Germany against any reprisals against American made automobiles because of "prohibitive" tariffs carried in the Hawley-Smoot bill was made today by Senator Walsh of Montana, acting Democratic leader in the senate.

Issued through the Democratic national committee, the statement said: "Both Ambassadors Edge and Sackett were members of the senate finance committee which levied prohibitive duties on French and German importations. It would seem, therefore, that in asking the two ambassadors to protest to the French and German governments, the President has forced his ambassadors into the position of supporting prohibitive tariffs at home and low tariffs abroad."

Walsh pointed out that Edge's selection for the Paris assignment was announced months before he formally resigned from the senate. "His reluctance to quit the senate," he said, "was understood at the time to imply the will of the administration that he continue his membership on the finance committee until the Hawley-Smoot bill had been reported to the senate."

As for Sackett, Walsh said, he was not selected for ambassadorial service "until after the tariff bill, with its numerous and prohibitive duties, had been reported out by Chairman Smoot."

Ship Sinks Off Finland; Storm Hides Fate of Crew

HUNDREDS WED ILLEGALLY ARE MARRIED AGAIN

Worthless Licenses Used, County Clerk Warns.

Marion, Ark., Feb. 2.—(AP)—County Clerk A. B. Carter revealed today that warnings issued from his office to hundreds of couples married here in the last 11 months under alleged worthless licenses have resulted in quiet remarriages which legalized the status of most if not all of the couples.

He said the warnings had been issued as the licenses were sent to the office for recording, and that marriage had followed in every case of which he knew.

Licenses Unauthorized.

A report of State Comptroller Howard Reed filed here yesterday alleged that Justice A. L. Newman, sometimes called the "Marrying Squire" in this town, which serves as a Gretna Green for Tennessee couples seeking to avoid the five day notice law of that state, had been issuing licenses under authority from a county clerk who went out of office eleven months ago. Most of the ceremonies also were said to have been performed by the justice.

The county clerk said he could not estimate the number of such warnings issued and remarriages performed, but the comptroller's report mentioned "hundreds" of licenses issued by Newman.

Majority from Tennessee.

During last December alone 1,834 marriage licenses were issued in Crittenden county, which lies just across the Mississippi river from Memphis, with Marion only six miles from that city. Most of the licenses were issued to Tennessee couples.

3,000 BUSINESS FIRMS JOIN IN WORLD CITY WEEK

More than 3,000 of the city's business establishments will be represented in the celebration this week of "Chicago—World City Week," according to announcement yesterday of officials of the Chicago Association of Commerce. Scores of the city's merchants are cooperating in the movement through special advertising, window displays, decorations, direct solicitations through letters, and through sales representatives.

In addition to activities on the part of individual business heads, a number of trade groups are giving indorsement to the week's program. Among these are the Retail Furniture Association of Chicago, Retail Meat Dealers' Association of Chicago, Chicago Brass Manufacturers' association, and the Chicago-Cook County Retail Grocers and Butchers' association. A number of the leading railroads will display posters in stations in and near Chicago.

Each Youngster Is a Personality; Why Try to Change Him?

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

A "Play Booklet," by Mrs. Bevans, for mothers of pre-school children, will be sent free on request of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

One day I heard the mother of a really lovely little girl say, in a moment of discouragement: "O, I wish Elisabeth was the happy go lucky kind—always jolly, and not so sensitive and thoughtful."

And another time I overheard the mother of a highly imaginative, gifted boy say: "Sometimes I wish Jim was one of those calm, phlegmatic boys, like Donald. Donald goes on in the even tenor of his way—always cheerful, unruffled and unexcited by family squabbles or journeys, or even operations. It would be so easy."

And it is not unusual to hear people bemoan other things concerning their children, like, "I do wish Kate were artistic," or, "I'd give anything if Bob was a student and a booklover, instead of being crazy about animals and athletics;" or, "it would be such company for me if Jane liked housework and sewing—but she just isn't domestic."

Such dissatisfactions even extend themselves into the physical. "I always hoped I'd have a slender, smart, yellow haired child and here's Peggy short and chubby and utterly without style," bewails a mother aloud or to herself. And a father thinks, "I've always dreamed of a broad, husky chap for a son who would be a famous quarter back at my own alma mater—and here's Richard rather small and slender, and obviously not equipped for the rough and tumble of college athletics."

Whether you say these things, or only think them, you are making a great mistake. Your sense of disappointment will get in the way of your sympathy with your child. For another thing, that feeling is apt to make you try to mold your son or daughter, to try to recast him or her nearer to your heart's desire. And here lies trouble or failure, unhappiness or rebellion—sometimes all three.

Instead, first admit to yourself that what YOU would like your child to be has nothing to do with the case. Then be loyal to him in spirit, and work with him, helping him to do the most with his true self. A real love and respect will grow up between you as a result.

Paris Turns from Black to Gay Colored Tweeds

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—It was bound to happen, with Paris hung black all winter. Even a woman bent on being chic (as the masculine cynics say) can stand just so much and no more. The woman has turned at last away from this somberness and is taking a gayer clothes tone.

Paris hasn't, all of a sudden, burst into bright colors, but gay young frocks are pouring out of the couturiers' salons at an increasing rate, and adding to the cheerful aspect of the highways and byways.

This is not the season when brand new ensembles from top to toe are indulged in, but separate dresses are finding takers at a brisk pace. These single dresses are the bright notes in sartorial scenery. Some of the credit for their gayety belongs to the new advance spring woolens and silks, which are patterned partly at least in bright colors. Lively greens, blues and reds are mixing with neutral and dark colors in fabrics for the separate frock, which is further jazzed up by bright details and trimmings.

Several of the prettiest dresses of this kind that I have seen in Paris are made of red and white tweed. The Jenny dress shown in our sketch is one of the newest made of this material. It's a one piece, with a bright red leather belt around it's normal waistline to show the world that Madame Jenny wants her waistline kept up in the silhouette scheme of things.

This dress has a collar and cuffs of white organdie edged all around with red rick-rack braid, and there is a big Latin quarter tie of bright red taffeta at the neck helping along the cause of cheerfulness in dress. A hard boiled front is indicated by a curved band of the tweed with the stripes of the pattern running diagonally. The deep skirt yoke is made of the diagonally placed tweed, while the lower skirt and the band up the center front, with its saw tooth edges cut on the straight of the goods. The skirt is flared by one box and two knife plaits at the front and sides. There are two red buttons at the sides.

Leisurely Start in the Morning Aids Whole Day

by Gabrielle Brandt

If you're not through making early year resolutions you might add one about getting up a few minutes earlier in the morning so that you will not have to rush through washing, dressing, and breakfast.

We're not crazy about New Year resolutions, either, but wouldn't life be calmer if we only could leave those warm blankets a few minutes earlier? The point is that we do not need that ten or fifteen minutes' extra bed rest any more than we need a second helping of dessert. Tempting—yes, but not needed.

To get the day started right we want time to eat breakfast in a fairly leisurely manner, to bathe properly, to get the makeup on neatly and to brush off the coat or dress so that we can saunter forth feeling all's right with the world since all is O. K. with us.

A noted physician once said if Americans could get a slow start in the morning both digestive and domestic ills would be reduced appreciably. Generally speaking, from the moment one's foot lands on the floor it's one mad scramble to get out of the house on time.

I'm thinking more about looks than about domestic difficulties. In the early morning race with the clock you may grab up clothes discarded the evening before just because they are nearest at hand. And you may postpone the early a. m. shower, the greatest beautifier of them all, for the simple night bath rite.

And what happens to makeup in that rush hour is something to weep over. There are any number of otherwise conscientious young women who tell themselves they'll wait till they get to the office to put the makeup on right and to rearrange their locks, and they practically snitch ten or fifteen minutes of time not their own.

However, it isn't the moral side of it we are discussing, either. You can't do your creaming and your makeup work nor comb your hair as nicely with your frock on as you can at home. And we want you to look your fresh and smiling best on your way downtown, not after you get there.

Of course, you can cut down on your morning's preparations by attending to such things as manicuring, complexion treatment and going over the wardrobe the night before, laying out clean things for a quick dressing. But system is what is valuable in the more leisurely tune with the clock in the a. m.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S OR MISS' DRESS.

The bodice of this chic dress simulates a diagonal closing, and the skirt shows the fullness concentrated at the left side, and is set into the skirt on a diagonal line, both in the front and the back. Even the neckline is quite one sided with its youthful scarf. The belt, too, besides being placed at a slightly higher waistline, is partial to one sidedness, for it is concealed by the left side of the bodice. Lightweight woolens and the silk crêpes will any of them make up well in this design.

The pattern, 3184, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3⅜ yards of 39 inch material, with ⅛ yard of 35 inch contrasting.

Beauty Answers

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

MISS M. V.: IT ISN'T POSSIBLE to reduce the lips, but by a careful application of lipstick you may make them appear smaller. Instead of carrying the color to the corners stop half way on each side and gently blend the lipstick the rest of the way with your fingertip.

S. H. L.: IT IS DIFFICULT TO reduce the bust. Strenuous exercise is necessary. It must be done faithfully every day at a certain time for a certain length of time to be effective. Rowing, bag punching and swinging Indian clubs are recommended. Other exercises may be had for a stamped, addressed envelope.

FARM AND GARDEN BY PAUL POTTER

Peat has proved very satisfactory as an absorbent and deodorizer in the dairy barn at the North Central Experiment station at Grand Rapids, where it has been used for several years. It has been found very effective in conserving bedding and saving liquid manure, which contains about 50 per cent of the nitrogen and 70 per cent of the potash excreted from the animal body.

Now peat is being tried out in the station's swine and poultry departments, several inches of dry peat being placed in the sleeping quarters for the swine and the poultry pens and then covered with straw. Thus far, the results have been fully as satisfactory as in the dairy barn. The pens and sleeping quarters are exceptionally free from moisture and cold floor drafts, the station reports.

Little labor is required in the preparation of peat for bedding, according to the plan followed by the station, which is as follows: An area of drained bog is stripped and plowed in July or August and left to dry. When the furrow slices are sufficiently dry the peat is pulverized by disking at regular intervals, preferably on a dry, windy day. The dry peat is then hauled to the storage houses. Any storage facilities that will keep the peat dry are adequate and need not be expensive.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Under the Boiler.

It is not an uncommon thing for thoughtless or untrained cooks to put a kettle of cold water over a gas flame and let the gas stream up around it. They also do this with a saucepan of cold water or a teaketle of cold water. I have always known this was an extravagant and useless thing to do but now I know it is dangerous, that all such kettles should be just above the gas and not in the visible flame.

And the safest way in cooking anything over a gas burner is to have certainly as much distance as there is between the fire and the utensil with the present grills we have, but perhaps some time there will be an even greater distance—for greater safety. The reason for the danger when the flame comes up around a cold kettle is that the gas is chilled and carbon monoxide forms, and while it may not be fatal, it may truly injure the health of the cook.

On Saturday, Jan. 18, when that week's copy of the Journal of the American Medical association arrived, I much wished the very next article which would appear in this column—for which articles are prepared some time in advance—would be on this subject, or concerning the dangers in using gas in cookery. In other words, I did not want people who were having to cook to wait a minute to know about "Report One of the Committee on Poisonous Gases of the American Medical Association," which appeared in this number of the Journal under the title, "The Dangers of Carbon Monoxide Poisoning, and Measures to Lessen These Dangers."

The third of the risks by this poisoning mentioned in this article is that of the forming of carbon monoxide when burning gas is chilled, as it will be when it comes near a cooling utensil or pipe containing cold water. Here are the exact words summing this up: "The chilling stops the combustion at its first stage, and large amounts of carbon monoxide may thus be reduced and liberated. Cooks working under such stoves are sometimes more or less affected by the headache which low grade intoxication by carbon monoxide induces. Occasionally, in closed rooms, such a stove or water heater may continue to produce carbon monoxide until the amount is sufficient to cause the death of persons sleeping in the room."

But the whole article should be read. It is a most significant one and its teachings concerning the prevention of various dangers which threaten us along this line in our modern life are most vital.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

My small son and I spent the afternoon with a neighbor and her boy. The neighbor's child, being used to playing alone, would allow no one to touch his playthings. Hollis complained about it to me and I told him that, since he was "company," he must allow his host to do as he wished with his toys.

A few days later the small boy and his mother visited us and the neighbor's child confiscated all the playthings. Again there was a complaint and I said, "But he is your 'company.' Of course, you must be polite and let him have your toys."

Hollis sat quietly in the corner for a while, then came to the kitchen where I was preparing tea and said, "There's a thing I can't understand. When we're at Vernon's house he has all the toys because I'm 'company,' and when he's here he has them all 'cause he's 'company.'" K. D. H.

The Ace of Spades

By WILLIAM MACLEOD RAINE

SYNOPSIS.

Jim Rutledge, accompanied by Sim Hart, is sent out with a herd of cattle to fulfill a contract made by his father, Chandler Rutledge. On the trail they are overtaken by some men from the Moss outfit, enemies of old Rutledge. The Moss men start a stampede and drive off some of the Rutledge cattle. Jim recovers them, but in doing so shoots and injures one of the Moss raiders. The men of the Moss outfit swear to be avenged for the injury and pursue him. Jim takes refuge in a ranch house where he finds a young girl busy making pies. She hides him until his pursuers go off on another trail.

INSTALLMENT VII.

THE RIGHT ANSWER.

Jim's head was up. His eyes were steady and unafraid. He looked at Ellen.

"I think you're—hateful," she cried in a low voice.

"Then that's all there is to that," he mocked. "Why don't you call out and bring your friends the rustlers back? I reckon they're still within hearing."

"Because——".

"Because I might get one of them before they got me. I might, too. Is that rifle hanging up in the other room loaded?"

"What rifle?"

"The one I saw in the other bedroom as I came in here with you. I may have to borrow the loan of it."

"No. You're not going to make more trouble. Give me yore pistols and get back up where you were."

"I hate to refuse a lady, but I wouldn't feel dressed today without my guns," he drawled. "I'd do 'most anything else for you. Shoot a rustler or two, say. I'll tell you what. You go collect the weapons from that Moss bunch of lawahidin' citizens first. Maybe then I'll give you mine."

His ironic laughter rang harshly on her ears. She hated him for his callousness, for the cool hardihood with which he defied her even though he was at her mercy. He was quite capable, she felt, of taking the rifle from her brother's room and walking out to confront his foes. Anything but that. She knew by the wild beating of her heart that she had to save him, no matter who he was or what he had done, regardless of the anger his insolence stirred in her. She did not ask herself why this was so. If she had asked, she could have given no answer except the universal one that bloodshed was horrible to her because she was a woman. Yet that would have been only the partial truth. Contradictory emotions fluttered in her bosom. She was both fascinated and furious.

"I suppose you're what they call a killer," she flung at him.

"That's the story yore side is telling, I reckon," he said, bars of gray

"Who are you?" Moss asked angrily.

steel radiating from the pupils of his eyes. "Let it ride at that, if that's what you claim."

"You wound my brother. You come here and ask me to hide you. You treat me like—like——"

A sob of indignation choked her words.

"How do you want me to treat you? First off, you blame me because I had to shoot up yore brother to save my own life. Then you claim I make trouble when this bunch of outlaws jump me and I have to ride hell-for-leather with them pumping lead at me, after we've stood 'em off for six weeks coming up the trail. They're a bunch of highwaymen. That's plain talk, miss, but you asked for it."

"My brother's no highwayman."

"Then he's trailin' with the wrong crowd."

"That's yore story. Course you can say anything. I don't have to believe it—and I don't. I know Steve. He's not like you."

"I've had my say. Take it or leave it."

"I know what I think," she cried. "But that doesn't matter now. I don't want any killing around here. Go back into the loft—or take Sam's horse while he's down in the cottonwoods and ride away."

He had already considered the second alternative. But there was an objection to it. If he did this his enemies would know he had been concealed in the house and the girl would be left to bear the brunt of their anger.

"You've got my company," he told her. "While I'm here you can put me anywhere you say."

He swung up to the rafters and vanished above.

Hours later the Moss brothers and Roe returned to the cabin sour with disappointment.

"We found his horse wore out like you said, but the fellow got away," Dave explained. "Must have gone down to the crick an' slipped into the hills. We combed 'em thorough, too."

"Can you fix us up with dinner, Ellen?" asked Sam.

"Of course."

While Ellen made dinner for them they washed up and discussed the escape of Rutledge.

"That bird shows us up every time we bump into him," Pete Moss said sullkily. "He's had the laugh on us ever since single handed he took several hundred head of longhorns away from five of you lads. Glad I wasn't among those present that day."

Petc was a slender youth of twenty-two, dark like all the family, with straight, black hair and beady eyes. In bearing and manner was a suggestion of impatient arrogance.

"If you'd been there you'd have done like the rest of us," his brother Sam told him sharply.

"I wonder," murmured Pete impudently. "Maybe I would have had guts enough to back Steve's play instead of stickin' my tail between my legs."

"What did it get Steve?" asked Roe. "Not a thing. Me, I know when to make a gun play an' when to stick up my hands."

"I reckon the time to stick 'em up is when one guy rounds up half a dozen," Pete sneered.

Ellen came to the door. "Dinner ready," she announced.

After they had eaten they rode away. Pete lingered behind the others. He came and stood close to Ellen while she gathered the dishes.

"Girl, have you found the right answer for what I told you the other day?" he asked roughly.

"Yes, Pete. The right answer is the one I gave you then and always have given." She looked at him, color flooding her cheeks. "I wish you wouldn't speak about that today. Please."

"Well, I will. I'm tellin' you that you got to come to my way of thinking. I get what I want. You're my girl, an' that's the way it's going to be. Understand?"

"I'm not yore girl, either," she told him indignantly. "You can't bully me, Pete Moss. I'm a free born——"

There was a scuffle. He pinioned her hands and kissed her in spite of her struggles. As soon as he released her she struck hard at his face, furious with resentment. A stain of blood showed on his lips.

He drew his hand across his mouth and looked at his crimsoned fingers.

"You li'l wildcat," he cried in exasperation. "I'll sure pay you off for that."

Pete snatched at her wrist. She tried to twist it free, fought with all the strength of her lithe, muscular young body. He laughed with savage delight at her efforts.

"Fight, girl," he urged. "I like mine wild. Pete Moss is the lad can tame 'em. When you're quit rarin' around I'll take a dozen kisses."

Unexpectedly the girl relaxed in his arms, her gaze fixed over his shoulder. A voice shocked Moss like the touch of a live wire.

"Why, Mr. Moss, that's no way to treat a lady," it drawled reprovingly.

Young Moss whirled, to face a man behind a gun. The gun was a very businesslike revolver, and the end of the barrel was jammed against his stomach. The owner of the weapon was a stranger to Pete, a brown young fellow in the garb of a cowboy.

"Who are you?" Moss asked angrily.

"Me? O, I'm only the boy dad sent to mill—Jim Rutledge. Better stick up yore hands, Mr. Moss. It'll be safer—for you. Then you won't get wrong notions. That's right."

"How did you get here?" Pete blurted out. He was chagrined, very much so, and quite uncertain of what was in store for him.

"Came in the door while you were so busy. Saw yore outfit ride away and thought maybe I could borrow a horse somewhere."

"Where you been the last two hours?"

Rutledge laughed derisively. "You'd never guess, Mr. Moss. Hidden in a cottonwood not more'n a hundred yards from here. Lying up close to a big limb. You and yore friends passed so close to the tree I could have dropped on you."

"We looked up in the trees."

"You didn't look thorough enough. And maybe it's lucky for one or two of you that you didn't. Now let's talk turkey. First off, I'll take yore pop guns. Good. There's an old saying, Mr. Moss, that a fair exchange is no robbery. Yore friends have taken my horse. So I'll take yours."

"Kibitzer" Gives Wrong Advice Without Pay

Good morning!

Know you what a kibitzer is?

He is a buttinsky.

Nice fellow sometimes. Sometimes not. ALWAYS a pest.

This picture resolves itself, more or less, into the character study of one Mr. Lazarus, presented by one Mr. Green, who knows his kibitzers and acquaints you quite thoroughly with them before meeting is over.

Mr. Lazarus has a cigar store. He has a pretty daughter. [Sweetly portrayed by Mary Brian.] He knows all there is to know about everything—and what he knows is wrong. He has wonderful hunches that make the other fellow money. He is always bobbing up smiling where he doesn't belong. BUT THERE COMES A TIME . . . ! And the picture ends something grand for Mr. Lazarus and Mary and Mr. Lazarus' brother and Mary's young man—BUT—not through the acumen of Mr. Lazarus.

The finale is humorous, dramatic, and unusual.

"The Kibitzer" is entertaining if you care for the ahiesirishrose type of offering. Albert Gran is immense [in two ways] as a sort of John W. Gates. Lee Kohlmar does much with the rôle of Lazarus' brother. Neil Hamilton et others are all right but not hot.

The piece moves along at a satisfactory clip and does nothing to offend your eyes or ears.

"Siegfried," produced in Germany and based on the "Saga of the Nibelungen," is "not intended as a picturized opera, but as a pictorial poem revealing the beautiful spirit and story of the famed saga." (I quote from the press sheet.)

If you are interested in sagas and pictorial poems, if you still enjoy your fairy stories, why here is a film that you'll appreciate and to see which you can take the children—for it's nice and pure, besides having dwarfs and magic palaces and a "misfland" and an underground labyrinth and a dragon that breathes fire, and a sword that will cut a feather, and an invisibility cap that will make the wearer invisible or, if he desires it, change him to look like somebody else, and moats and drawbridges and birds whose language can be understood by Siegfried BECAUSE—he has bathed in the dragon's blood!

Siegfried is the son of Sigmund the Wise, and he starts forth through a terrible place known as Woden Wood for Burgundy, where lives the beauteous Princess Kriemhild, whom he would wed. The picture details the adventures of Siegfried et all, and they are interesting—if you like the stuff that sagas are made of.

The acting is good, though not at all after our school, and the photography is likewise. Some of the sets and costumes are stunning and the dragon is a lifelike and terrifying fellow. Direction is capable and imaginative. The film has an accompaniment of Wagnerian music.

Among other "bits" on the program is the feature "Books and Bookmen," which this week features Carl Sandburg.

See you tomorrow.

House of Bishops Will Meet Here to Pick New Primate

A dispatch from San Juan, Porto Rico, last night quoted Bishop William Andrew Leonard of Cleveland, O., confirming predictions that the house of bishops of the Episcopal church would, in tribute to the late Bishop Charles P. Anderson, hold their meeting for choosing his successor in Chicago.

Bishop Leonard, who became primate of the house of bishops upon the death of Bishop Anderson last week, was informed of the churchman's death while at sea. By radio he appointed Bishop Hugh L. Burleson of South Dakota as assistant presiding bishop and gave notice of the Chicago meeting. Although the Porto Rico dispatch did not mention a date for the meeting it was said here last night that it would probably take place soon after Easter.

Business Women of Indiana Demand Legal 8 Hour Working Day

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Anderson, Ind., Feb. 2.—Two hundred representatives of the Indiana business and professional girls' clubs, auxiliaries of the Young Women's Christian association, ended their annual convention here today. Marion, Ind., was selected for the next midwinter conference in 1931.

In addition to demanding a law for eight hours as a maximum working day for women, the convention will sponsor an Indiana movement to fix a minimum wage based on actual living costs and corresponding with responsibilities, regardless of wage scales of men.

The proposed measures will be forwarded to congress in addition to the state legislatures. Speakers today included Miss Alice Brookman, Chicago; Miss Wilma Duntze, New York; Miss Catherine Stretimiller, Peoria, Ill.

London Prelate Hopes Britain, U. S. Will Ban War

The Rev. Dr. Frederick Norwood, pastor of the City temple, London, speaking last night at the Sunday Evening club, Orchestra hall, pleaded for the development of new institutions which would banish war.

Dr. Norwood is visiting America as a representative of the Archbishop of Canterbury, primate of the Angelican church. He declared that Angio-American relationships are more favorable today than at any time in history.

"Man's needs and desires," said Dr. Norwood, "have brought into existence a world citizenship. The old lines are down. Individuals are closer to each other in point of time, space, and thought. Our next task is to create institutions to suit this new order and among them the antiquated war machine has no place."

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send your name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question D. B. Croy, 7524 Kingston avenue, was awarded $5.

The Question.

Would the prohibition law be more respected if modified to permit the sale of beer and wine?

The Answers.

J. Percy Ball, 9441 Pleasant avenue, organizer and promoter—The world at large would be greatly benefited by strict adherence to our laws. My Observation is that within the last few years prohibition has made an unprecedented change for the betterment of mankind.

Mrs. M. C. Emerson, 4158 West 25th place, housewife — It hasn't affected me in any way, but from a casual observation I think that with a modification of the prohibition law we would get along better, not only with that law but with all other laws. I believe in the happy medium

Monroe B. Felsenthal, 5436 Harper avenue, salesman — It would. It would do away with the bootleg whisky which causes people to go blind and insane. Since mankind will drink, man would be able to get pure beer and wine without breaking the law. By breaking one law he finds it easier to break other laws.

Miss Blanche Schaffner, 3858 West Adams street, college student — It wouldn't make any difference. People are against prohibition regardless of wether they do or do not drink. They feel that their liberty has been taken advantage of by the law. And even if the law were modified they would still feel they were being restricted.

Bart G. Neville, 155 North Clark street, attorney—Great masses of our citizenry refuse obedience to the prohibition law because they deem it an invasion of their personal rights and attempts at enforcement are a great waste of public funds. For these citizens, a modification of the law should add to restore respect for other laws.

History of U. S. Lends Itself to Varied Forms

List of Dates to Some; Telegram to Others.

Writing a 500 word history of the United States appears to some persons to be a task similar to fitting the news about the family into a ten word telegram to the absent member.

Former President Coolidge inspired THE TRIBUNE to offer the nine prizes for such histories when he agreed to write an American history in 500 words to be carved on the Mount Rushmore memorial in South Dakota. First prize is $1,000. Second and third prizes will be $500 and $250 respectively. Seven additional prizes of $50 each will be distributed for the next seven best entries. All manuscripts must be in the hands of the history editor by midnight of Feb. 15.

Rules of the contest have left the selection of the form and style of the presentation to the historians. To them, also, is left the selection of episodes, and personages.

Those who have elected the telegraphic method usually start by dropping all articles and many adjectives overboard at one fell swoop. What is left is apt to be a bit choppy. As for instance:

"America discovered by Columbus, 1492. Indians warred against settlers. Thirteen colonies formed. Taxation without representation incited unrest against England. Boston tea party. Revolutionary war started in 1775. Declaration of Independence drafted by Thomas Jefferson proclaimed July 4, 1776."

Then there are those contestants who go in for what one reporter who glanced over the entries classified as "the tombstone technique." They do it this way:

1492—American discovered by Columbus.
1776—Declaration of Independence issued by the thirteen colonies.
1812—War with England.
1917—America enters the world war.

It may be that the winning paper is among these entries. The judges will decide that point after the last paper has been received on Feb. 15. No limit is placed on the number of manuscripts that may be submitted by any one person.

How would you tell it? Address your effort in care of the history editor, THE TRIBUNE, Tribune Square, Chicago.

THE STAGE

"GAMBLING."

A play in four acts by George M. Cohan, given at the Erlanger theater, Feb. 2, 1930, with Mr. Cohan as star, under his own management.

THE CAST.

Draper	George M. Cohan
Freelock	Robert Middlemass
Dorothy	Isabel Baring
Braddock	Douglas MacPherson
Mazie	Mary Phillips
Brennan	Charles Johnson
Gaylor	Theodore Newton
Martin	Ernest Fox
Mason	Mark Sullivan
Buddy	William Gillard

And others.

Act I.—Draper's apartment, New York.
Act II.—Dorothy's and Mazie's apartment.
Act III.—Draper's gambling house.
Act IV.—Knowles' office. Downtown.

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

SEVENTEEN years make a difference, of course. At the Erlanger theater last night, before the curtain rose on Mr. Cohan's "Gambling," most of us were thinking of the young George, with his derby cocked over one eye and an impudent Broadway quirk to the corner of his mouth, swinging a cane jauntily and stepping as if ready to go into a dance at any moment. But what we saw at his entrance (greeted with a long, play-stopping salvo of applause) was old George, gray as a senator, ripe as an elder statesman, quiet and earnest and steeped in worldly wisdom. Yes, he has changed—and the brashness of his other days has become the mellowness of a distinguished actor.

In this light melodrama of his own authorship, Mr. Cohan puts on a few years with his make-up, perhaps; he has given himself the rôle of a worn, worried veteran of the Manhattan gaming houses, with the murder of his adopted daughter to solve. He is, for the first time in his career, emotional. He communicates deep feeling, with the technique of silence. His sleek, more than middle aged gamester—a big shot of the Canfield type—is not the kind of man who makes a scene when he is given the news that the girl he had reared has been killed and he is confronted by her seducer and probable murderer. He is the kind who goes tight-lipped, hard-eyed and icy with the passion of a tooth for a tooth. In this scene, which comes early in the play, you learn that Mr. Cohan has been keeping an unsuspected talent up his sleeve all this long while; that the mannered, flippant comedian of old is a serious actor, highly effective in expressing major emotions.

The play itself deals with decorative aspects of the Manhattan night life in the vain of modern melodrama. It is peopled with betting commissioners, croupiers, kept women, police inspectors, and other inevitables of their world. It has a murder mystery to solve, and Mr. Cohan, groping along a lost trail with a father's yearning for revenge, is the amateur detective who finally brings the slayer to the confessing point. He plays a gambler's "hunch" in following his suspicions, and his luck finally places the needed clew in his own overcoat pocket.

Color, rather than plot, is the secret of "Gambling's" allurement. The piece takes plenty of time to paint its picture of one phase of the New York underworld, as seen through Mr. Cohan's somewhat romantic eyes. The situations themselves do not come across the footlights with notable impact of drama; the plot is not tight and dynamic. But as the mild current of mystery runs along there are episodes that grip the attention with their vividness of atmosphere.

The apartment of the picturesque and skillfully characterized gold-diggers, with Mr. Cohan cozening them like a tired old rake, in the hope of picking up a thread of the riddle; the mansion of chance, with its bored employés, its gay spenders, and a brisk police raid; the police headquarters, with the sure-fire bullying of suspects and the long distance telephone as a device to nab the murderer—these are the high lights of "Gambling." And Mr. Cohan's scene with the fluffy-haired Mazie, installing himself (for virtuous reasons) as the man with the latch-key, is a masterpiece of sly, insinuating comedy with an undercurrent of menace. Mr. Cohan, it is said, has never written or acted anything that might be called sexy, and this episode does not violate that tradition. It is purely ironic. But it is a clever adaptation of Cohan technique to a current vogue in play-making.

Mary Philips' Mazie is a striking note in the good acting the play receives. This dry, reticent, cynical study of callous womanhood is probably the year's best characterization in its line. Isabel Baring, as the other errant sister, of the type that goes sentimental and reforms, and Robert Middlemass, as a booming police inspector, also contribute capably to the performance. "Gambling" is a play with a large cast, and all the types are well treated. Occasionally, however, the stage director employs pauses and glares so exaggerated that they suggest slow-motion pictures.

German Opera Opens Season at Auditorium

'Tristan und Isolde' Has Snappier Pace.

"TRISTAN UND ISOLDE."

Opera in three acts by Wagner. Sung by the German Grand opera company at the Auditorium, Feb. 1, 1930.

THE CAST.

Tristan	Karl Jörn
Kurwenal	Richard Gross
Melot	Franz Egenieus
King Marke	Laurenz Pierot
Voice of the Sailor	Alexander Larsen
Sjeersman	Albert Jablonski
Shepherd	Gustav Werner
Isolde	Juliette Lippe
Brangaene	Sonia Sharnova

Conductor, Ernst Mehlich.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Back at the ancient, slightly down-at-the heel but ever so friendly Auditorium, and this time for what looks at the start to be a week of rather inspiring German opera.

Judging by last night there is reason to believe that the German Grand Opera company is about 100 per cent better than it was last season. Most of that improvement lies in manner. A good many of the artists have carried over from last year, and they were excellent singers, excellently routined then. But this year there has been added a brightness of style, and it has transformed everything.

Certainly last night's cast could measure itself with any cast in the world. There was Mme. Lippe, of heroic voice and stature, a singing actress who knows how to sing and to act. [The qualification is desirable.] There was Mme. Sharnova, who would decisively seem to be the best Brangaene since the time that Schumann-Heink was young. There was Mr. Jörn, who completely dispels the argument that I have been hearing more or less incredulously for the last ten years to the effect that good tenors are not to be found in Germany any more. There was Mr. Gross, a wonderfully fine Kurwenal, concealing tenderness under burliness, but not in the least concealing a voice that was a pleasure to hear. There was Mr. Pierot, one of this season's newcomers, who, if his King Marke is a fair sample, is going to be heard from in most favorable terms.

And Mr. Mehlich at the conductor's stand kept things moving with a pace which, if not of the stop-watch, was of the spirit. In actual minutes this performance, or at least its first two acts, was little if any shorter than other performances. In vitality, in brightness, consequently in interest, the performance sped.

The company has an orchestra entirely competent in both numbers and ability, it has acquired a complete set of first rate scenery and costumes, it has an adroitly constructed set of lighting fixtures, and some one with the imagination to work them. And there was a brief bit by a male chorus that indicated something very pleasant in the way of choral singing.

In fact one begins to believe that the German Grand Opera company has an artistic soul.

Up to yesterday afternoon it was believed that few persons around Chicago had ever heard of a kobza-bandoura, but a reasonably large crowd gathered at the Civic theater to listen to Vassyl Yemetz while he played one, so there must have been some previous acquaintance with it.

It is the national instrument of the Ukraine, belonging to the guitar family, with a large, heart-shaped body and short fingerboard, but having about thirty strings. A few are controlled in pitch by the left hand of the player on the fingerboard, but others above and below are sounded as open strings. Its technic, therefore, would seem to be a combination of the guitar and the small harp.

It sounds a little like a guitar, though the tone is not subject to change like the guitar's, a little like a mandolin, a little like a zither, but mostly like a kobza-bandoura. As much of Mr. Yemetz's program as could be heard consisted of Ukrainian folk music, gentle, rather primitive melodies, accompanied with simple chords but with a good deal of elaborate ornamentation from the higher strings of the instrument. All the arrangements were announced as his own.

Publix-BALABAN & KATZ WONDER THEATERS

Talking Pictures Lead the Amusement World

A year and a half is now in retrospect. Talking pictures—the "infant experiment" of eighteen months ago, is the giant of the amusement world today.

The Chicago Tribune commented recently: "The movie-talkies are rushing along like a tornado, grabbing drama, Shakespeare, Shaw, melodrama, comedy, old plays, modern plays, light opera, everything in its path. The reproduction of the human voice on the screen is getting better and better every day."

Talking pictures have uncovered new talent in unsuspected sources and in new people. They have intensified your entertainment with the greatest stage stars and stage shows. They have developed your favorite screen stars to surprising heights.

They have given you a new Clara Bow, a new Gloria Swanson, a new Ronald Colman, a new Norma Shearer. They brought you the charming and versatile Maurice Chevalier—wait until you see him in "The Love Parade," and they have also brought you the greatest artists of the stage: Al Jolson, Ruth Chatterton, George Arliss, the Barrymores and numerous others.

TALKING PICTURES TODAY ARE THE GREATEST FACTOR IN THE WORLD OF ENTERTAINMENT. Every step taken in the industry is a long step forward in the march of talking picture progress.

Virginia Chapin Francis A. Drake Are Engaged

BY THALIA

The Simeon B. Chapins who used to be Chicagoans, and who still spend much of their summers at their estate, Flowerside Farms at Lake Geneva, announced the engagement of their daughter, Virginia, to Francis Augustus Drake, son of the Tracy C. Drakes of the Blackstone, at a large formal dinner on Saturday at their residence at 930 Fifth avenue in New York City.

The romance has been going on for quite a long time, but young Mr. Drake has been in Paris for the last 6 months, learning the ropes of the travel business of his brother, Carlos C. Drake, so the announcement had to wait until he got back to this country.

Miss Chapin attended the fashionable schools of Miss Spence in New York City and of Miss Porter in Farmington, Conn., and made her debut two seasons ago. Her sister is Mrs. Kenneth Patterson and her brother, Simeon Brooks Chapin Jr., married Elsa Bartholomay, the Henry Barthlomays' daughter, several years ago. Mr. Drake was graduated from Yale last June. He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon, as his father is. He is a member of the Elihu club, and rowed on the 150 pound crew. The Tracy Drakes also have a summer place at Lake Geneva, where several other romances have developed.

The annual meeting and luncheon of the Service club is to take place today at the Drake hotel. New officers will be elected.

Dr. and Mrs. Vernon Herbst and Richard Rosenwald are being impressively entertained in India. While they were guests of the maharaja of Mysore, a musicale was given for the vicegeral party. An Indian band played Indian music, including solos on various unusual instruments, and Mrs. Herbst was requested to sing, accompanied by the orchestra. The following day she was asked to repeat the songs for the wife of the maharaja and the "ladies of the court." Now they are visiting his highness, the maharaja of Kapurthala at his palace, according to cabled information.

The John J. Finlays' baby daughter has, after due consideration of the problem of naming her, been christened Barbara Dodd Finlay. Her mother was all for having her named Felicia, but Barbara won. Her middle name is after Mr. Finlay's grandmother on whose birthday Barbara was born. The infant was christened yesterday, and Helen Rend is her godmother.

The John F. L. Curtis family is to be pretty well separated for the next few months. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis left yesterday to sail on Feb. 8 from San Francisco for Honolulu for a month's trip after which they will be in California until about the middle of April. Their son-in-law and daughter, the Henry Rowleys of Lake Forest, leave on Feb. 15 for a stay in Bermuda, and the John G. Curtises and their youngsters, Florence and John, are wintering at Useppa island in Florida.

Mrs. Oscar W. Johnson of 1343 North State street and Mrs. A. Harris Whiting of 1438 North State, sailed Friday night on the S. S. Olympic for Europe.

Mrs. George Carter Howland is on her way south to spend several months.

George N. Northrop is spending several days in Washington, D. C., as the house guest of Joseph P. Cotton, acting secretary of state. Later he will be in New York City as the guest of Henry Dana Jr., before the meetings of the Headmasters' association at Briarcliff Lodge at Scarborough-on-the Hudson.

Mrs. Ford Rodman Carter and Mrs. Townsend McKeever are now at Havana, Cuba, after motoring from Chicago to Miami, Fla. They plan to be at Palm Beach later.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond M. Ashcraft of 4950 Woodlawn avenue, and their daughter, Miss Jane Ashcraft, are giving two evening parties, one last night and another next Saturday evening, for their friends who spend the summer at Lakeside, Mich., as they do.

The Walter Garritt Smiths gave a house party this week-end at their cottage at the Lawsonia Country club for Mr. and Mrs. Philip T. Starck and Mr. and Mrs. Louis G. Buss. The Henry Norcotts and, their daughter, Betty Jane, also have a group of guests at Lawsonia.

Miss Rosemary Baur left on Saturday for a sojourn at Palm Beach, later going to Nassau and Havana.

CHICAGO GIRL TO WED SWISS

MISS MATTIEBELLE HUBBART.

Rachmaninoff Gives Concert

BY HAZEL MOORE.

On the ever shifting concert stage, artists come and artists go, the light of one flames high, and dies quickly; another lights more slowly but lasts longer. Among them all, year in and year out, the steady flame of Rachmaninoff's art burns on undimmed.

Visual testimony to his continued popularity was yesterday's audience at Orchestra hall, which filled the auditorium and overflowed as usual onto the stage already preempted by Rachmaninoff and his piano.

There is little on his program to tell the story of his great drawing power. Other pianists play, as he did yesterday, the Beethoven Sonata, Opus 78, the Schumann Novelette, and the Chopin Sonata, Opus 35. They may even play some of the Rachmaninoff compositions, such as the "Etudes Tableaux" numbered 33, and close with the Strauss-Tausig "Valse Caprice," with all the Tausig added fireworks properly in place, and yet the tall, gaunt Russian who has not changed a hair's breadth in twenty years, satisfies the more.

That he has a gigantic technic is certain. So have others. That he is a great personality is not so easily matched. That he has maintained throughout many years of playing a distinctly individual viewpoint to his music is another point in his favor. Also that he has made a definite contribution to piano literature in his compositions. At least three of his études played yesterday were particularly attractive, the "E Flat Major," the minor of the same key, and "G Minor."

A Rachmaninoff program is never complete as printed. Yesterday he, as usual, added a complete group of encores. Rachmaninoff is not mild, but he does satisfy.

At the Playhouse, Ilza Niemack, who is in the beginning of a concert career, gave a violin recital to a good sized and friendly audience.

Her program was of major proportions, and included two compositions of her own. She was heard in Saint-Saëns' Third Concerto for violin. In spite of an undoubted talent and a good musical sense, Miss Niemack was at various points in obvious difficulty in the concerto with more than occasional slips of intonation, and a definite lack of nonskid, double stopping facilities. Perhaps later in her program she was able better to assemble her forces.

Indian Handicraft.

Indian handicraft was displayed and a program was given by the Pueblo Indians yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the grand council fire of American Indians in assembly hall, 17 North State street.

Art Show at U. of C.; Various Other Displays as the Week Opens

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

Monday is an excellent day on which to clear the calendar. A number of new exhibitions are scheduled for openings this week and next. The Renaissance society of the University of Chicago announces a special exhibition of important modern paintings owned by Chicagoans, arranged by the Chester Johnson galleries, from February 4 to Feb. 18 in room 205, Wieboldt hall. The art committee of the Cordon is preparing for an exhibit of work by Myrtle Merritt French starting Friday. Wednesday the Business Men's Art club will open their annual show, this time in the R. R. Donnelly & Sons building, 350 East 22d street.

Helen West Heller had a midnight preview of her paintings Saturday night at the Cinema theater, to some ways of thinking a curious time and unusual place for artistic deliberation. Karl Ouren, who paints magnificent snow pictures, will hold a one man exhibition at the Palette and Chisel club, starting Feb. 15, of recent canvases garnered on a trip to Norway. Norman Jacobson, a New York artist, has developed and patented a process of drawing on and printing from sandpaper. It reads exotic, at all events. The Arts club will give us an opportunity to judge the merits of his invention for an exhibit of his work is scheduled to open in that gallery next Friday.

The Philadelphia museum has just purchased a still life by Le Fauconnier, which was shown in Paris at the last Autumn Salon. The Anderson galleries will show paintings by A. G. Warshawskey beginning Feb. 10. The artist is an American, born in Cleveland, who has spent twenty years painting in Paris. His pictures are of Paris street scenes and landscapes from the south of France, very lovely.

One of the best of the international gestures going on just now is the exhibit of Russian posters current in the Kroch galleries. All of the great Russian artists are mobilized for public work and they are the ones responsible for the excellence of the posters. These range in time from 1917 to 1929 and illustrate quite clearly the trend in Russian artistic and political ideals, at least as far as the government wants those ideals clarified and known. Prof. W. H. Burton, of the Chicago university, will discuss "Soviet Schools and the Use of Posters in Education" on Tuesday at 4:30 o'clock in the galleries.

Hoover May Talk During Yorktown Day in 1931

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—(AP)—The United States Yorktown Sesquicentennial commission has laid before congress its recommendations for a celebration of the 150th anniversary of the surrender of Lord Cornwallis, Oct. 19, 1781, at Yorktown, Va., when the 13 colonies gained freedom from Great Britain. The celebration would be Oct. 19, 1931.

The program proposed the attendance of President Hoover, his cabinet, former Presidents, members of the Supreme court and members of the house and senate, along with dignataries from other countries.

"The President has signified his intention to attend, and it is believed," the report said, "that he will make an address on that occasion."

MAYA BUILDINGS FOR CHICAGO'S FAIR WILL HOUSE INDIAN RELICS

Mayan temples and monuments and other ruins of a lost civilization, highly advanced in architecture and other arts, will be reproduced at the 1933 World's Fair in Chicago. An expedition, it was revealed yesterday, will set out this month to study the Mayan ruins for that purpose.

The expedition was financed by Rufus C. Dawes, president of the World's Fair, at a cost of $5,000. The party, headed by Frans Blom, archæologist of the department of middle American research of Tulane university, New Orleans, will sail Feb. 14 for Yucatan.

The Mayan structures to be built here, as exact replicas of those in Yucatan, will house examples of American Indian civilization from the Mayan age to the lives of the tribes of today.

Mr. Blom will leave New Orleans for Mexico City Thursday to arrange for permits for the party. The archæologists will first stop in Progreso, Yucatan, and visit what was the city of Chichen Itza, noted for its beautiful architectural ruins.

'Misunderstood' Mate, Sex Female, Common Sight Nowadays

BY DORIS BLAKE.

This age of ours certainly does produce in female replica many of the characters formerly believed distinctly male of version. There's the tired business woman; the woman who wants time off for card playing; the woman gambler (cards or stock). And today we have with us the "misunderstood" mate, sex female.

The woman whose husband does not understand her is coming to be quite a common figure. She belongs usually to one of two classes—either to the group whose home occupations are not enough to keep her engaged, and she goes in heavily for mental uplift, or she belongs to a group, again with hours on her hands to be disposed of, somehow, that is purely pleasure loving in its pursuits.

Either type of woman may be married to a man who is grimly absorbed in pursuing dollars and yet more dollars, to the exclusion of every other interest. When his day is done he has neither energy nor inclination to be a sympathetic party to his wife's interests.

Mrs. X, our correspondent, belongs to the group of culture seeking wives. She confides that her life with her husband is grown so tasteless for want of some understanding from him that she is willing now to fade out of the picture. And there is ANOTHER——

There usually is ANOTHER when wives report on their mates' lack of understanding. In fact, wives rarely remember that they are not understood until some terribly understanding person does appear on the scene.

In other words, when wives begin confiding that their husbands do not understand them it is generally their girlish way of informing their world that they are no longer in love with their legal spouses and are in love with some one else. Not always is this the case, of course, but usually, if you've been an observer of the type.

There is no doubt that incompatibility of interests does cloud the home atmosphere, but it is a large question in a number of minds whether the restless, leisure favored class referred to will achieve under other circumstances that understanding for which they seek. Generally they don't, for what the majority of them want is the privilege to enjoy self-pity.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Not a Friendly Act.

"Dear Miss Blake: My girl friend and I broke up because I won her beau. I want to renew our friendship. Please advise. RUBY."

She feels you would do the same thing again. You might try to convince her to the contrary, however.

Moody Bible Institute Conference Opens Tonight

HAWKS WHIP DETROIT, 4-1; TIE FOR 2D PLACE

BIG NINE REINSTATEMENT TERMS DISAPPOINT IOWA

STUDENT PAPER CALLS IT PEACE SANS VICTORY

Ban on 11 Athletes Unjust, Claim.

Dual Swim Meet

SWIMMING teams representing the C. A. A. and University of Iowa will meet in a dual meet at Iowa City on Saturday. The Hawkeyes will come east for a return engagement in the Cherry Circle pool on March 8.

Iowa City, Ia., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Characterized by the Daily Iowan, University of Iowa student newspaper, as "a peace without victory," the Western conference action in reinstating the Hawkeyes has failed to arouse much enthusiasm on the Old Gold campus.

There was obvious disappointment which in one quarters verged into outspoken resentment over the conference barring the way to further attempts by Iowa to seek reinstatement of eleven athletes. Hawkeye athletic officials who were openly jubilant when news of Iowa's reinstatement first reached the campus later refused to make statements when they learned that a plea to have the athletes restored to good standing would be turned down.

EDWARD LAUER.

Farroh Is Disappointed.

While athletes themselves all denied reports that they would leave Iowa, they were almost unanimous that the conference refusal to consider a reinstatement plea was unjust. Mike Farroh, three sport star and co-captain elect of the football team, said: "It is the greatest disappointment of my life. I am certain a rehearing should be given all of us. I had no idea we would be barred from further competition."

Irving Nelson, another versatile athletic star, joined Farroh in asserting that he will remain in school, though characterizing the conference action as "unfair." Doyle Plunkitt, basketball forward, said, "It is a grave injustice to the athletes and especially to those who are majoring in physical education. Barring them from athletics will lessen their chance of obtaining good coaching positions after graduation."

Glad Iowa Is Back.

Floyd Mitchell, basketball and track athlete, said: "The men are not guilty and the action is unjust," and Lawrence Benson, another cage squad member, added: "A rehearing should be held at once."

A different note was struck, however, by Theron Boyer, pole vaulter, who said: "As long as Iowa is back, my personal status doesn't make any difference to me."

The opinion that intercollegiate athletics everywhere will benefit from the developments of recent months, which have focused public attention upon it, was expressed by C. C. Williams, chairman of the Iowa athletic board. "The discussion of subsidizing is going to have a beneficial effect in every way," Dean Williams said.

Iowa's Twofold Hope.

As to Iowa's own situation, the athletic board head expressed himself as "very hopeful" that the new Hawkeye athletic program, under Director E. H. Lauer, "a true scholar with a more liberal background," will accomplish two things. First, he said, the aim will be to put athletics on a high plane in every way, and, second, to place athletics "in the sphere it ought to occupy in the whole educational picture."

The student newspaper today declared in its editorial columns that "one happy thought about the entire matter is that George T. Bresnahan still occupies the position of coach of track and cross country, for behind the scenes certain Big Ten schools pulled every wire possible to secure his dismissal. This victory for the Iowa mentor is one of the brightest spots in the whole outcome of the situation."

Whether Iowa teams will participate in conference track, swimming, and wrestling championships meets this spring is still a matter of conjecture, both because non-conference schedules have been partially completed and because Hawkeye officials would not yet discuss their policy for the remainder of the school year.

The possibility that Iowa may meet one conference foe in football next fall, possibly Minnesota, is balked by the fact that the Hawkeyes already have eight games, the maximum permitted under conference rules. Coach Burt Ingwersen pointed out that an opening for a conference school might be made by playing one of the non-conference tilts as a reserve team contest, but declined to discuss the possibility of such a move.

Tebalas Hand Ke-Nash-A Blue Streaks 3d Defeat

FT. WAYNE BEATS BRUINS, 21 TO 16; TIED FOR 3D PLACE

Banks Leads Hoosiers with 5 Baskets.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Fort Wayne gave the Bruins a demonstration last night of how a delayed offense should be played. Result: Chicago lost a brilliant guarding game, 21 to 16, and the teams now are tied for third place in the pro basketball race.

They play tonight and tomorrow night at Fort Wayne, then come back to the Stadium for their fourth game in as many days. By that time the fortunes of the Bruins in the second half title battle will have been determined. Cleveland at present has a safe lead, with six games won and two lost.

Davie Gets Away.

The game attracted 6,000. They came, not only because of the rivalry between the teams, but to watch Nat Holman, Bruin veteran, play against Davie Banks, once a teammate of Nat on the New York Celtics.

This personal combat was a standoff during the first half, but in the final session, the stalling game that Fort Wayne adopted when it achieved the lead, fitted Davie's quick starting tactics. He broke away to score four field goals from under the basket, giving him a total of five for the evening.

One of Banks' shots was made while Holman was jumping with Chadwick and can be attributed to Kellett's carelessness.

Hickey Counts 10 Points.

Nat Hickey also scored ten points, and had it not been for his brilliant one hand shots from the corners the Bruins would have been overwhelmed. Hickey made four field goals and two shots from the penalty line. He scored the only basket the Bruins made in the second period. Chicago's total for the twenty minutes was five points.

Although Chicago started slowly, trailing 6 to 1 at one time, Hickey's work put the quintet into a 11 to 7 lead at the intermission. Shortly after resuming play Johnny Beckman, another old timer from the original Celtics, replaced Shimek. The Hoosier guard had fallen in guarding Hickey and fractured his left albow. The injury will keep him out of the game for at least three weeks, doctors said last night.

Beckman started Fort Wayne's drive with a long shot. Hickey matched it, but the Hoosiers tied the count at 13 all with nine minutes to play. Then Banks broke loose, and with a two point lead Fort Wayne stalled.

Fort Wayne Controls Ball.

With Ralph Miller on the block line, the others passed carefully, controlling the ball and forcing the Bruins in vain pursuit. When the Bruins closed in, it was Banks who outsped the defense to score. He counted twice and Rus Saunders once in the remaining minutes, while the Bruin attack netted only three free throws. Chadwick's superior height also was a factor in the victory.

In the preliminary game the Taylor Trunks defeated the Calumet City team, 32 to 8. Bruins' lineup:

BRUINS (16).	B	F	P	FT. WAYNE (21).	B	F	P
Hickey,lf	4	2	3	Miller,lf	0	4	4
Holman,rf	1	1	5	Saunders,rf	2	1	1

Lawndale Gym Makes Bid for Golden Gloves Team Trophy

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

George Kamberson of the Lawndale gymnasium yesterday nominated 36 fighters for the sectional trials of THE TRIBUNE'S Golden Gloves tourney.

Kamberson, who has developed clever boxers, entered fighters in all three sectional trials. The team was selected after a series of tryouts and every entrant will answer the call to the ring. Kamberson could have entered twice as many boxers, but he decided to limit the nominations to the 36 experienced boys.

Bids for Team Trophy.

"I am certain my team will win the trophy," Kamberson said when he turned in the entries. "The boys are determined to win. I have watched them closely, and I cannot see how some of them can be kept out of the finals. I have enough entrants in every class to give me points to win the championship. The boys have been pointed for the tourney since November."

Among the better known boxers who will represent Lawndale gymnasium is Eddie Vack of Harrison High school. Vack, winner of thirty-four out of thirty-eight fights, hits hard with either hand and is one of the best boxers on the team. He is a middleweight.

Smith State Champion.

Andy Smith is the Illinois state outdoor amateur light heavyweight champion and Bob Le Moore won second place in the welterweight competition of the Illinois outdoor championships. Tony Mandell of Rockford beat Le Moore for the title. Otis Cooper, a clever lightweight, will be the gymnasium's entry in the 135 pound class.

Dick Monty, who reached the semi-finals in last year's Golden Gloves tourney in the light heavyweight class, again is a contender for the 175 pound title.

Johnny Baima, the Illinois state outdoor middleweight champion, will be among the favorites in his division. Baima stopped O. E. Robertson, who won second place in the middleweight class in last year's tourney. All the Lawndale fighters are in training at their gymnasium, 3950 West 26th street.

Entries Close Tomorrow.

The first set of trials will be held at the Ashland Boulevard auditorium Feb. 11. Entries for these tests close tomorrow night. Boxers living between 22d street and North avenue and from the lake to the western boundary of Cook county will compete in these preliminaries. Four in each class will qualify for the finals. No post entries will be accepted. Other sectionals are on Feb. 14 and 17.

Tickets for the Coliseum finals, Feb. 25 to 28, which will determine the team to meet New York at the Chicago Stadium March 19, are on sale at THE TRIBUNE'S Public Service office, 1 South Dearborn street. Tickets for the New York series may be purchased at the same place.

SCORING.

First period: Chicago—Cook [Couture], 19:10.

Second period: Chicago—Gottselig [Cook], 1:40; Ripley [Graham], 3:12.

Third period: Detroit—Noble [Goodfellow], 3:16. Chicago—Arbour, 18:45.

PENALTIES.

Somers [2], Ripley [2], Somers [2], Goodfellow [2], Abel [3], Couture [major and minor], Noble [major], Rockburn Cooper, Arbour, Dutkowski [2], Lewis, Conners.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Chicago Blackhawks crushed the Detroit Cougars, 4 to 1, in a hard-played National Hockey league game here tonight, 20 penalties attesting to the roughness.

LEO COUTURE.

Capt. Reg Noble of the Cougars and Leo Couture of the Blackhawks engaged in a fist fight on the ice in the final period that required the services of policemen to quell. Both Noble and Couture were given major penalties.

The victory enabled the Hawks to tie the New York Rangers for second place.

With a minute to go in the first period, Tommy Cook batted the rubber into the Cougar net while Beveridge was ten feet out of position.

A lightning like stab from Johnny Gottselig at the start of the second period sent the Hawks farther ahead. Two minutes later Ripley scored.

Arbour's Score Final.

Dutkowski got the worst of a bumping series with Goodfellow and was ushered off for trying to take it out on Cooper.

Noble tallied for Detroit after three minutes of play in the final period. It came on Goodfellow's pass.

After Goodfellow and Dutkowski had been ruled off for attempting to fight, Noble and Couture mixed and followed the former pair off the ice. Connors took a flying body check at Gottselig and was given two minutes' enforced rest.

Arbour made the Blackhawks' final score two minutes before the finish of the game.

JOHNSON'S JAW BROKEN.

New York, Feb. 2.—(AP)—The Boston Bruins and New York Rangers battled overtime tonight to a 3 to 3 tie. It marked Boston's first deadlock of the hockey season and the first points the Rangers had made against the Bruins in ten games.

Ivan (Ching) Johnson, defense star of the Rangers, received a broken jaw in the first period. Johnson, trying to bolster up a defense weakened by penalties, engaged in a single handed struggle with several Boston players. He left the ice soon afterward and an examination disclosed a fracture of the jaw.

Johnson was out of action most of last season because of a broken leg.

ARGENTINE POLO TEAM WINS WAY INTO COAST FINAL

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 2.—(AP)—The Argentine polo team today won its way into the finals of the Pacific coast open championships by defeating Rancho San Carlos, 10 to 5.

The sparkling horsemanship and accuracy of Alfredo Harrington, No. 1, and Manuel Andrada, back, was largely responsible for the victory. Each made four goals to tie for scoring honors.

The hurricanes from New York and the Midwick team of Los Angeles will meet Wednesday to decide which will play the South Americans in the final Sunday.

CHICAGO PAIR TAKES LEAD IN AURORA PIN MEET

Aurora, Ill., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Art Hein and A. Carlson of Chicago rolled into first place in the doubles of the fifteenth annual interstate bowling tournament here tonight with 1,366. Carlson got 745 pins in his three games. The two replaced Bill Brennan and Joe Fliger of Chicago, who have been leading with 1,365.

The Birk Candy company of Chicago took third place in the five men event with 3,121 and the Polacki Recreations, also of Chicago, went into fourth place with 3,102.

DENSMORE SHUTE WINS TEXAS GOLF MEET WITH 277

Al Espinosa Ties for Second Honors.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 2.—(AP)—While a gallery of 8,000 stampeded in his course, Densmore Shute, slim young Columbus, O., professional, continued his calm, unruffled golf today to win the ninth annual Texas open tournament with a total score of 277 strokes. On his final round he took a par 71.

Late in the day it appeared that Shute might have the $1,500 first prize taken from his grasp after he had led the field through three gruelling rounds, but he tightened up and came through with a safe margin. His total for the 72 holes was seven strokes under perfect golf.

Three stars who threatened to pass Shute throughout today's 36 holes finished in a tie for second place, each with 280 strokes. They were Al Espinosa, Chicago; Neal McIntyre, Indianapolis, and Ed Dudley, Wilmington, Del. They divided $1,700 in prize money between them.

Scored Four Remarkable Rounds.

Shute's victory was his second important triumph of the winter golf tour. He picked up $3,500 in the Los Angeles open, which, with $1,500 here, placed him well up in the list of money winners for the year.

Tony Manero, Elmsford, N. Y., came in for a $300 cut of the prize list with 284 strokes. Jack Forrester, Hackensack, N. J., and Mike Turnesa, Elmsford, N. Y., divided $250. Each had 287 strokes. Frank Walsh, Chicago, Al Watrous, Detroit, and Harry Cooper, unattached, split $325 for their 288's.

Ed Dudley put the pressure on Shute in the final round. Playing in the same threesome with the Columbus professional, Dudley was only a stroke behind when they started the final round. Shute faltered on the first nine, going one over par, the first time he had turned a nine over perfect figures since the tournament started, and Dudley squared it with a 36.

Shute Wins Back Stroke.

Shute got the stroke back on the tenth, but took a disastrous 6 on the thirteenth, and Dudley went into the lead with five holes to go. Shute buckled down to business. He clipped off those last five 3—4—3—4—3, two under par, while Dudley went two over. That was sufficient.

Final scores and scores of the two eighteen hole rounds today follow:

Georgia Quail Baffle Becker with 4 Speeds

BY BOB BECKER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Albany, Ga., Feb. 2.—Judging by the speed and high climbing stunts the Bob Whites here have shown, these Georgia quail must be made with four speeds forward and two or three speeds for reverse.

Spot a covey in a stand of tall pines and, at least, one or two in the bunch will tower until they are among the tree tops, leaving you wondering how they got into squirrel territory so quickly.

Yesterday we watched a fine demonstration of what four speeds forward will do for these quail. At the time we were some 16 miles from Albany in company with Gene and Chet Clarke, local sportsmen.

Old Red Walks Out.

Boy, a smart old black and white setter, made a find in a patch of pine timber standing between a peanut field on one side and a broad, weedy pasture on the other.

Old Red, a tan and white setter, came up, backed his partner for a second or two, and, then, refusing to honor the point longer, walked out on the show. That confused us momentarily, for we figured that the white dog must be pointing anything but a covey, what with its partner refusing to stand in the orthodox fashion even though he was close enough to get the scent of the covey. Walking up, guns ready, we commented on the fact that Red was quitting. But Gene assured us that there were birds just the same because the red dog was pulling his favorite trick.

Second Shot Tells.

Coming up even with Boy there was a roar of wings and zowie! A bunch of feathered bombs launched into the air. The air was full of quail and No. 8 shot as the covey scattered to all points of the compass.

Then, standing with empty gun and watching the dogs retrieve we saw Gene, at our right, throw his repeater to his shoulder. One of those Bob watching the dogs retrieve, we saw streaking it for safety, rising as if shot from a gun. In a couple of split seconds it was among the tree tops and still rising. Gene whammed away at this fast target. First shot was a miss. Shucking another shell into the chamber of his gun, we saw him draw again on that disappearing Bob White. Bang went the 16 gauge and down dropped the bird.

In New York
Spit is a horrid word, but it is worse on the end of your cigar

...the war against Spitting is a crusade of decency... join it. Smoke CERTIFIED CREMO!

Hating "spit" as you do, wouldn't you be horrified if you suddenly discovered that the cigar you smoked was rolled by filthy fingers—and tipped with spit?

Why take chances? Smoke Certified Cremo and protect yourself against this abomination! Every tobacco leaf entering the clean, sunny Certified Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods developed by the United States Government during the war. And its purity is safeguarded along every step of the way by amazing inventions that foil, wrap and tip the cigars without the possibility of spit!

Try a Certified Cremo—see how wonderfully good it is! Made of the choicest, tenderest leaves that the crop affords, we claim Certified Cremo's quality is tastier than that of any other cigar. Don't let its 5c price stand in your way. Certified Cremo is the kind of cigar your physician has in mind when he recommends a mild smoke in place of heavy brands.

Crush-proof . . . immaculate . . . foil-wrapped . . . Certified Cremo is the kind of cigar the late Vice-President Marshall undoubtedly had in mind when he said, "What this country needs is a good 5c cigar!"

Gratz Bowls 300 Game; Averages 226 for Match

Joe Gratz, representing the Milford Alleys, last night rolled a 300 game in a match with Eddie Krems at the Lincoln alleys. His scores were 183, 300, 184, 213, 253, for an average of 226. Krems rolled 203, 200, 190, 216, 199. Dominic Devito established a high series record for the North Division All Star league with games of 297, 216, 247, 234, 236, for a 1,190 total. He was opposed by Herbert Lange.

Purdue Defends Big 9 Lead Against Buckeyes Tonight

Purdue's leadership in the Western conference basketball race will be at stake tonight at Lafayette, where Ohio State meets the Boilermakers. Purdue has won two games and lost none, but has played no conference games for three weeks.

The Ohio State squad is on its way home from Minneapolis, where Saturday night the Gophers won a 29 to 26 game for their first conference victory and also for an even split on the season's contests with the Buckeyes. While Purdue rates as the favorite tonight, an Ohio victory is not impossible. In the event of Purdue's defeat Wisconsin will lead the race.

Keller Forward for Purdue.

Coach Lambert is expected to start the same combination which played in the 25 to 20 overtime victory over Loyola university last week. Harry Keller, now eligible, as he is starting his sophomore year, will team at forward with Glen Harmeson. Stretch Murphy, at center, and Boots and Wooden, guards, complete the lineup.

Purdue meets Chicago Saturday night in a game which should add to its victory list, since the Maroons have lost four consecutive games.

Illinois will be host to Chicago Wednesday night. Coach Ruby's quintet has lost one game, as has Wisconsin, but what the Illini will accomplish is problematical, now that Horace May, regular center, is ineligible. Harry Ashley, Chicago running guard, has recovered from a foot infection, and this adds to Ruby's distress.

Canfield Leads Illini.

In yesterday's scrimmage Ruby used Bob Bartholomew and Babe Kamp, forwards; Tarwain, center, and C. B. Harper and Capt. Mills on one team. The other was composed of Chuck Canfield and Herb Hill, forwards; Kawal, center, and Bur-Harper and Bob Kamp, guards. Capt. Mills' quintet was defeated 30 to 17, with Canfield scoring eight field goals to lead both squads. Herb Hill, letterman last year, and C. W. Reissen have been promoted from the reserve squad to fill the vacancies left by May and Hank Steinman, substitute center, who also is ineligible because of grades.

Illinois' second game of the week will be against Minnesota at Minneapolis Saturday night.

Michigan added two victories to its record last week, but will not play any conference contests this week because of examinations.

Hoosiers Play Tonight.

Indiana's first conference game of the week is Saturady at Ohio State, but the Hoosiers engage Washington university at St. Louis tonight. The Bears were champions of the Missouri Valley conference last year. Coach Dean will start Strickland and Zeller at forwards, Capt. McCracken at center, and Veller and Blagrave at guards.

Stan Coveleskie Quits Baseball for Gas Business

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 2.—[Special.]—Stanley Coveleskie, onetime famous spitball pitcher in the American league, has decided that his days as a ball player are over, even in independent circles, and this week he blossomed forth as a full fledged gasoline and oil station proprietor. He has purchased a station in the Polish section of South Bend. For several years he has pitched for a local independent team.

Chastain Guns for Walker if He Wins Bout

If Clyde Chastain beats Harry Ebbets at the Coliseum Friday night, Chastain's manager will post a check for $2,500 with the state athletic commission challenging Mickey Walker for a title fight.

"I believe," says Manager Eddie Sears, "that when Chastain beat Haakon Hansen here recently, he overcame the best opposition the middle west has in the middleweight division. If he beats Ebbets, and I am convincied he will, he is entitled to a title fight with Walker."

The Chastain-Ebbets battle will be a scrap of right hands, one which frequently produces a knockout. Ebbets has scored k. o.'s in more than half of his victories.

Joey Medill is hard at training for his fight with Spug Myers. Joey, after an extended layoff due to an injured ankle, is setting out again for the top rung of the lightweight ladder.

N.U. Faculty Chief Starts Today on European Tour

They sail Feb. 8 on the Minnekahda and will proceed to Paris for a brief visit. From Paris they will go to the Riviera and then continue to Naples. They plan to spend most of their European visit in Rome and Munich where Prof. Long will conduct research in connection with his study of Latin.

Prof. Long stated last night that he was happy to see the Iowa situation settled before leaving.

SOVIETS ARREST 5 PASTORS; SEND ONE TO SIBERIA

Last Lutheran Churches in Leningrad Closed.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Feb. 2.—The last four Lutheran churches functioning in Leningrad have been closed during the last week and five pastors have been arrested. One of them has already been sent to a Siberian camp for organizing an illegal Sunday school.

This information reached Lutheran authorities at Riga from relatives of one of the arrested men. Local Lutherans believe that this year may see the remaining Lutheran churches in Russia converted into movie houses and workers' clubs.

Church Foes Win Praise.

According to the official figures published in the newspaper Bezdoshniki—The Godless—in the last three months the government has closed 250 churches and 200 synagogues and mosques. The Atheist league is warmly commending the Communist party local workers for cooperating in the fight against all religions.

The Bezdoshniki also attacks a suggestion made by communists and published recently in a Moscow evening paper, the Vechernaija Moskva, that ikons and other religious paintings in churches and monasteries be confiscated and exported abroad to be sold to collectors. Instead, this paper recommends the bonfire method used at Voronech last week when 3,000 ikons, collected in churches and homes, were burned.

Reward Persecutors.

The Bezdoshniki and the Atheist league proposes to offer a prize of a radio station to the city arranging the largest bonfire of ikons and other sacred objects.

During the last fortnight at Leningrad, Moscow, Parkov, Kiev and other cities the soviet issued orders to have the bells removed from the churches and the proceeds from their sale as metal given to the industrialization fund.

Parrot Given Clean Bill by City Health Department

A clean bill of health was issued yesterday by the health department to a companion bird of the parrot which last week caused the death of John Ashment of Roundup, Mont., from psittacosis or "parrot fever." The parrot was sent back to Robert Shatkus, 2077 Canalport avenue, a nephew of Ashment, who returned it to the Bee Zee bird store, 606 Maxwell street, where he had purchased the two parrots. Dr. William Tyler, who examined the bird yesterday, said that it showed no symptoms of psittacosis.

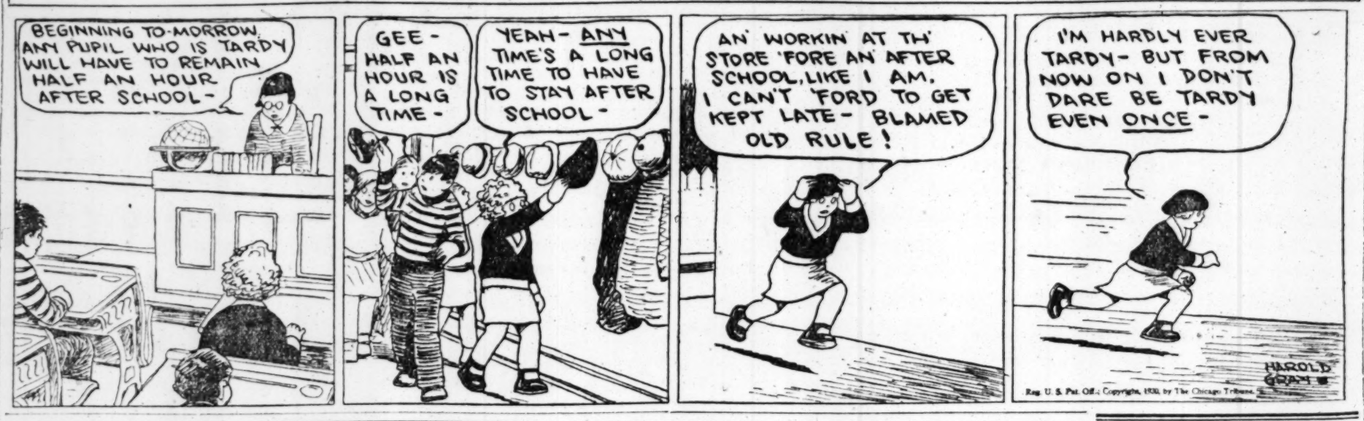
LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: The New Rule



On a Dull Day Elmer Garners Beauty in Radio

Gives Palm to Orchestral Suite by Tschaikowsky.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

As I take it, the theme and variations section of an orchestral suite which Tschaikowsky transcribed from several pianoforte works by Mozart, played in the W-G-N symphony orchestra during the 7:45 to 8:15 period, was the loveliest heard during the day. Conductor Gaston du Moulin should give the radio world further opportunity to hear selections from this suite.

In introducing the Chicago Symphony orchestra's concert through W-G-N, 2 to 3 o'clock, Conductor Frederick Stock stated in effect that he had arranged a bright and sunny program for a dark and dreary day: Beethoven's "Egmont" overture, Haydn's "Surprise" symphony, prelude to Debussy's "The Afternoon of a Faun," and selections from Dvorak's "Slavonic" dances. Bright and sunny, but so wholly familiar to radio. On some wild and blizzardy day I wish Mr. Stock would upset precedent by giving us some of the many quaint, odd novelties that must have accumulated in the orchestra's library through the years of its existence.

The program director of the theater orchestra, heard from New York through KYW, 1 to 2 o'clock, consciously or unconsciously struck a dark and gloomy piece for a dark and gloomy day by presenting Tschaikowsky's "Pathetique" symphony.

Armand Tokatyan, Egyptian tenor of the Metropolitan opera, and Miss Genevieve Rowe, first prize winner of the 1929 national radio audition contest, were the soloists on the New York concert through W-G-N, 8:15 to 9:15.

This was to my knowledge Mr. Tokatyan's third radio appearance, and it was a decidedly enjoyable recital, such as from now on make this artist one to look forward to for future programs. His song groups were attractive, and the natural coloring and the native sweetness of his voice made his moments on the air something to remember. Miss Rowe did admirably, and in heh prize winfing "Shadow Song" from Myerbeer's opera "Dinorah" she again displayed the lovely quality of t er voice.

For the first time for a long time I heard Mike and Hermann of WENR, 3 to 3:10, and, as always, this comedy team, spelled s-m-i-l-e-s.

10,000 MEET TO MOURN FILIPINO SLAIN IN U. S. RIOT

MANILA, P. I., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Today was observed as "national humiliation day" by about 10,000 Filipinos who gathered here for services protesting against the recent anti-Filipino demonstrations at Watsonville, San Francisco, and San Jose, Cal. The disturbances at Watsonville resulted in the death of a Filipino.

The meeting was orderly as the crowd, wearing for the most part black mourning bands, gathered at the foot of the monument to Jose Rizal, Filipino patriot. Speeches in English, Spanish, and Tagalog caused many to weep.

Veterans of the Filipino revolution, in annual convention here, adopted a resolution calling on President Hoover to protect Filipinos in America against aggressions such as those at Watsonville. Another resolution endorsed the King Philippine independence bill. The veterans society reelected Emilio Aguinaldo, Filipino leader, as president.

1929 EXPORTS HIGHEST SINCE WAR INFLATION

Washington, D. C., Feb. 2.—(AP)—An increase in exports from the United States to the highest peak since 1920 was shown in complete returns for 1929 issued today by the department of commerce.

Only in 1916 and 1920, when prices were inflated by war and post-war conditions, have exports been higher than the five billion 248 million total reached last year. This was 2.3 per cent more than sales abroad during 1928 and was nearly two and one-half times larger than the average value for the period 1910-1914.

Practically the entire increase in total export was confined to the first four months, with May, October, November, and December exports declining. Shipments of finished manufacturers were larger, however, in all except three months—May, November, and December.

Complete statistics for imports showed a total of 4 billion 400 million during 1929, an increase of 309 millions over the preceding year and only slightly below the 1926 figure.

1,200 SAVED AT SEA LAUD HERO CAPTAIN'S DEATH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 2.—The port of Buenos Aires was thronged as early as 5 this morning to greet the liner Monte Sarmiento bringing home the 1,200 tourists who were recently shipwrecked when the liner Monte Cervantes was sunk by rocks off the Argentine penal colony of Ushuaia on Tierra del Fuego.

Most of the passengers praised the smart work of the crew and Capt. Dreyer in rescuing the passengers from the doomed vessel. This was done in less than 50 minutes. Capt. Dreyer made no effort to save himself but commissioned a friend to carry a letter to his wife in Hamburg. The ship's officers and local pilots believe that the rock which the ship struck is not charted.

Extraordinary scenes of enthusiasm and emotion took place. The passengers in general shrugged their shoulders and treated the adventure lightly, though grumblers were not lacking who breathed threats of legal action to recover lost valuables.

RECTOR MARRIED BY PRIEST FAILS TO FILL PULPIT

Dayton, Ky., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Services at St. John Episcopal church here were read by a layman today instead of by the Rev. Julius A. Velasco, 31, rector, suspended by Bishop H. P. Almon Abbott of the Lexington diocese after he was married to Miss Catherine Rogers by a Roman Catholic priest Jan. 25.

Mr. Velasco said yesterday Bishop Abbott had no right to suspend him because he had "done nothing wrong" and added that he would not resign unless it was the will of his congregation. Mr. Velasco did not appear today, although he had announced his intention either to conduct services or close the doors.

Bishop Abbott arrived today for a conference with members of the vestry board, but no announcement as to the outcome was forthcoming.

Cultivate a liking for milk by serving "Selected"

Children and grown-ups just naturally love its "Sweet Natural Taste"

Milk is so good for us all—the mineral salts make sound teeth and sturdy bones, the protein builds and repairs tissues and muscles, the butter fat supplies heat and energy, and all the important vitamins are there.

But no child and few grown-ups will drink milk simply because it's good for them unless they like it. That's where the "Sweet Natural Taste" of "Selected" accomplishes wonders.

Children just love it. Grown folks pronounce it the best milk they ever tasted.

"Selected" is fresh milk at its best. It is a special milk for drinking, produced on 105 picked dairy farms with fine healthy herds, modern barns and efficient cooling equipment. COMM. EDISON REPORTS GAIN IN NET INCOME

Gross Revenues Up, Report Shows.

Commonwealth Edison company had a better year in 1929 than in the previous twelve months period, the annual report released last night reveals.

Gross operating revenues for the fiscal year ended Dec. 31 were $83,486,744 and increase of $6,443,968 over 1928. Net available for dividends was $16,-221,765, against $15,475,109 in the previous year, an increase of $874,660. The 1929 net is equal to $12.05 on the capital stock outstanding.

After payments of dividends, $6,264,-[illegible] was transferred to surplus bringing that figure to $40,794,813. It was stated in the report that cut rates which became effective in 1929 reduced the company's revenues by $1,344,580. Total assets are carried at $375,966,120.

Provide for Increase.

In his report, President Samuel Insull points out that no additional capacity was installed in the generating plants during 1929, but that provision was made for normal growth of business through allotments of capacity from the stations of the State Line Generating company and the Super Power company.

The move is important in as much as it marks the beginning of a new epoch in power production, Mr. Insull said. "The requirements of future years may be supplied largely from stations outside of the city of Chicago. This is necessitated by the difficulty of finding in Chicago power station sites within an area zoned for industry where an ample supply of condensing water is available."

Economize on Coal.

During the last year the company's output of energy, including all that was produced and purchased for the use of customers in Chicago, was 4,-276,181,000 kilowatt hours, as compared with 3,851,106,000 kilowatt hours in 1928, or an increase of about 11 per cent. Despite this increase of 11 per cent, consumption of coal by the company showed a gain of only 5.3 per cent, it is pointed out. In 1929 the company consumed 3,630,000 tons of coal against 3,466,000 tons in the previous year.

The Public Service Company of Northern Illinois reported yesterday that operating revenues for the year 1929 were $33,329,810, an increase of 12.9 per cent compared with 1928. After the payment of $4,064,578 in dividends, $3,036,291 was carried to surplus, compared with $2,379,579 in 1928. The company now serves a total of 331 communities. The service includes electricity, gas, water and heat.

National City Bank Sees Revival in Industry

New York, Feb. 2.—(AP)—The National City bank of New York says in an announcement that during January industrial activity had made an impressive comeback from the low point reached in November and December. As evidence it said that operations in the iron and steel industries have been stepped up since the end of December from approximately 40 per cent to capacity to 75 per cent, with some companies at the end of January ranging as high as 100 per cent.

Net income after all charges, including depreciation, in 1929 was $254,209, compared with a net loss of $663,313 in the previous twelve months.

Net retail sales for 1929 increased $1,170,133, while total sales showed an increase of $340,719. Total net sales volume for the year was $25,796,852. During the year the sum of $521,862 was added to the surplus and reserve accounts.

The company reports that it has no bank loans or other payable notes outstanding. The business is now entering its seventy-fifth year under the control and management of the Mandel family.

Commenting upon the report, Leon Mandel II., general manager, stated: "We have completed a year of significant development, following definite plans conceived and inaugurated in 1927 and 1928. The company has enjoyed a substantial increase in retail sales volume which has been accomplished at a satisfactory ratio of gross profit and with reduced operating costs.

"It is interesting to note also that during 1929 the store recorded the largest single day's volume in its history and exceeded the previous year's gross sales transactions by over 650,000 units, showing a substantial gain in public good will.

"It is reasonable to suppose that as the year 1929 showed marked improvement growing out of plans formulated prior to this period, so 1930 should again be a year of growth and development. This is particularly true inasmuch as a program has been seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the business. These plans will be initiated during the first half of the year and are evidence of our belief that the highly diversified nature of commerce and industry in the city of Chicago guarantees the maintenance of a high level of prosperity during 1930."

HADLEY PONDERS ACTION ON PHONE RATE DECISION

While the city's attorneys yesterday were reviewing the decision of the federal court in the Illinois Bell Telephone company rate case, Charles W. Hadley, chairman of the Illinois commerce commission, took a hand in the matter. The decision, which granted the telephone company a permanent injunction preventing the commission from enforcing a rate reduction ordered in 1922, declared that the commission was at fault in not having made reëxamination since that date and not having undertaken to determine a rate base by a method "which is not, on the face, unreasonable and arbitrary."

Mr. Hadley said he had called George I. Haight, special assistant corporation counsel assigned to the case, and requested a copy of the decision. Mr. Hadley said he would confer with Mr. Haight to determine the city's views on what should be done and later take up the matter with the commisson to ascertain what action, if any, that body should take.

The city's lawyers are expected to determine this week whether they will ask for a rehearing or appeal to the United States Supreme court.

Chemistry Is Changing; to Explore New Fields

BY SCRUTATOR.

Chemistry is changing. For a half century or more its scientists have devoted the bulk of their efforts to mineral products, notably those derived from coal tar. Authorities now hold that the most interesting developments for the next generation will come with cellulose, a vegetable product, as the principal raw material.

Far reaching effects on agriculture and forestry are likely to follow. Paper, artificial leather, rayon, lacquer, film and dozens of other finished products are now made on the base of cellulose. New uses are developing and there are already premature opinions that there may some time soon be a shortage of raw materials for the new cellulose age.

Indications point to forestry, in view of possible developments, becoming a branch of agriculture. The tree is the great source of fiber as yet and Wilson Compton of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association stated recently that the annual growth on an acre of timber land brought four times as much cellulose as the same area planted to cotton.

Processed Products.

Processes have been developed to take small timbers, unfit for saw lumber of high grade, and manufacture it into boards. The resultant product is not the same as lumber and doubtless will never supplant it. Yet vast businesses are growing up to make boards of pulverized woods, of sugar cane bagasse and of the woody fibers of other annual crops.

Chairman Legge of the farm board during the last week made a plea for reëstablishment of the farm woodlot, which he asserted was disappearing in many sections. "If every American farmer," he said, "would devote 5 per cent of his present acreage to this form of reforestation he would have gone a long way toward meeting the problem of excess production [of farm crops] and have materially added to the future value of his farm."

A farm expert in the south recently predicted that that section would be eventually given over almost entirely to crops that could be used in cellulose form. Trees may even become of more importance there than any annual crop. The lumberman, as Mr. Compton has explained, is reluctant to engage in expensive forestry to grow saw logs three to five feet in thickness when the market for them is uncertain. He has added that a forest problem based on small diameter wood bolts is something else and easier to master.

Holds Promise of Relief.

The cellulose division of chemistry is barely fifty years old, in practical application. Up to the civil war only cotton and linen fibers were held to be fit even for the making of paper. In 1869 only 2,000 cords of wood were used, it is reported, in cellulose pulp processes. In 1874, in England, wood pulp as a fiber was held to be unsuccessful. Yet now paper consumption in this country has reached about thirteen million tons a year and in 1928 the nitrocellulose lacquer production was forty-one million gallons—all from cellulose.

From the south in future may come the supplies which now are furnished by the Canadian forests. Emphasis may be on the fibers of plants rather than on the seeds and fruits. Whether this means on trees or on corn and other annual plants is uncertain. But the new chemistry and the farm woodlot promise more help for agriculture than all the marketing schemes ever put forth.

Chemistry looks to new outlets for products; marketing schemes are only palliatives for bad conditions.

Public Bond Issues for Week Total $24,742,649

New York, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Municipal and state bond scheduled for offering this week aggregate $24,742,649, a decrease of about $3,000,000 from the offerings of last week. Dallas county, Tex., road district No. 1, on Monday will offer $3,000,000 road bonds.

CURB MARKET PRICES TURN UP SHARPLY; ACTIVITY BROADENS

New York, Feb. 2.—(AP)—A sharp upturn in prices, accompanied by a broadening of activity, featured trading on the New York Curb Exchange last week. Indications of easing credit conditions and a further improvement in general business, coupled with a revival of investment buying, provided the background for the advance, which embraced all leading groups of stocks.

Public utility issues, which had encountered strong selling resistance since the first of the year, suddenly bounded upward under the leadership of Electric Bond and Share, which was marked up nearly 10 points to 95¼, and closed near the top. Allied Power and Light, American Superpower, American and Foreign Power warrants, American Light and Traction and other popular issues in that group advanced in sympathy.

Steadily expanding earnings of the leading operating companies and reports of a settlement of differences among the leading group corporations stimulated the demand.

Oils also showed several points of strength despite the unsettled price situation, and the increasing volume of reserve stocks of crude and refined products. Aviation shares, which have been under rather steady pressure for the last few months because of disappointing earnings and reduced estimates of 1930 sales, rallied on short covering.

Commercial Investment Trust Earnings Increase

Commercial Investment Trust corporation, a finance company, reports consolidated net profits of $9,132,610 for 1929, a gain of $3,854,348 over 1928. Earnings available for dividends totaled $7,844,095, or $4.47 a share on average amount of common stock outstanding during the year. In 1928 earnings equalled $3.83 per share on the same basis.

FIGURES SHOW PRICES DID NOT DROP ABRUPTLY

Commodities Fell During 1929.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 2.—The suddenness with which financial attention has fastened on the decline of staple prices is in line with the old tradition which invariably looks for the rise of some new problem as a new year begins even though the underlying situation is unchanged.

It is not that prices for commodities have reversed their trend abruptly. On the contrary a gradual reduction during the last half of 1929 had brought the labor bureau's average for December nearly 4 per cent below the average for July, to the lowest figure except for the period from March to July, 1927, inclusive, that it had reached since the early months of 1922.

But the decline had not taken spectacular shape until the present year began. During January, however, it presented such striking changes as a fall of 2⅜ per cent in steel products to less than any monthly average for seven years past; of 6¼ per cent in cotton, to the lowest since 1927, and of nearly 14 per cent in wheat, from $1.33⅞ per bushel on Jan. 2 to $1.15½ last Thursday. All other grains and several other metals have joined in the downward movement.

Are Not Unusual.

GRAIN PRICES AT SEASON'S LOW DURING WEEK

Bearish Feeling Pervades Mart; Support Poor.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Lowest prices of the season were made for all grains last week on liquidation and short selling, mostly the former. Support was poor, an extremely bearish feeling all around.

The close was at a small rally with net losses on wheat 3⅞@4¼c, corn was ¼c lower to ¼c higher; oats, 1@1⅛c lower; rye, off 7⅛@7¾; lard, 12½c lower, and bellies, 7½c higher than a week ago.

Declines from the highest level of the season made in midsummer show wheat futures off 45⅛@48¾c on the near deliveries, March leading the break, with September off 23c. March corn has declined 21⅛c; May, 19⅝c, and September, 16⅝c. Oats were off 19⅛c on May, 17c on July, and 17¾c on September. Losses in rye have been drastic, March losing 45¾c; May, 43⅝c, and July, 21⅜c.

At the close of the week a better feeling existed in corn and oats, while in wheat and rye, which are world's propositions, uneasiness prevailed because of uncertainty as to what the federal farm board and its cooperatives will do, especially as regards wheat, while Russia's entrance into the wheat and rye markets makes the future movement of prices a problem.

Watch Farm Board Reports.

Grain traders are expecting a statement from the farm board meeting which was on at Washington on Saturday. A point made by traders is, will the farm board's cooperatives continue to maintain prices for cash wheat in the northwestern, southwestern, and Chicago markets above the price of futures. They bought wheat in the southwest and northwest at around 1½c or more above the price of May which does not seem to be good judgment based on present conditions although the farm board may possibly have some information that will exert bullish influence on values of which the grain trade has no knowledge.

With the short interest well reduced by the drastic decline during the last week, and weak holders eliminated, the market is believed to be in a position where it will respond more readily to any new buying or selling. The belief exists, however, that wheat prices in the United States must decline to a world's parity.

Last November when the trade was told by government officials that prices were reasonable and farmers were advised to hold their grain, May wheat in Winnipeg and Liverpool was $1.45 and in Chicago $1.35. Since then Winnipeg is off 20c and Chicago and Liverpool 17½c.

Cash Wheat Over Futures.

With the government cooperatives paying $1.25 for No. 1 northern spring and $1.22 for No. 2 northern, or around 20¾c over the May, elevator people are said to be preparing to sell these grades of wheat held in country line elevators, and predictions are that receipts in that market will average around 400 cars a day this week. There is a big profit in selling cash grain on this basis. Although the government cooperative was offered No. 1 spring wheat at Chicago, it declined to buy, its bids being limited to hard winters. No. 1 northern spring, however, in Chicago was $1.18½, or 3½c under May, with No. 2 northern $1.17, or 5c under. This is a striking difference, especially when it is considered that Chicago has an all rail rate to the seaboard 13c per 100 lbs lower than Minneapolis. In other words, Minneapolis is paying 6½c over Chicago prices for No. 1 northern when it can be laid down from Chicago on a freight rate of 13c per 100 lbs. cheaper. This is one of the peculiar features of the present wheat situation.

Wheat traders are so bearish despite the decline that, should anything happen to give them an unexpected jolt, a sharp rally might result.

Open interest in wheat futures at the close was 202,242,000 bu, or about 1,000,000 bu more than a week ago, while sales of futures were 334,752,000 bu, against 192,143,000 bu the previous week and 210,478,000 bu last year.

March closed Saturday at $1.17⅝@1.17½; May, $1.22¾@1.22⅝; July, $1.24¼@1.24; September, $1.26⅛@1.26¼. Prices follow:

WE MAKE SECOND MORTGAGES

Dullness in the real estate market has not affected our ability to make second mortgage loans to home owners at the same low cost, with the same and convenient terms which we have always stood every test during the past five years—and they stand the test today.

We have not raised our rates; we make application promptly; we close loans with dispatch; we charge 7% actual interest and commissions which work out as follows:

$65.00 per $1,000 for 2 years
$90.00 per $1,000 for 3 years
